Vol. 60. NO. 24 VICTORIA, B. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 28, 1922 PRICE FIVE CENTS

MUCH FISH WILL BE EATEN FEB. 1

Wednesday Next Canadian National Fish Day

Statement Issued by Hon. Ernest Lapointe

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—Fish merchandising houses across the continent have been laying in large stocks to provide for an anticipated record demand next Wednesday—National Fish Day. The normal per capita consumption of sea foods is increasing in Canada, figures compiled in the Marine Fisheries Department show, and for this reason the National Fish Day sales are expected to surpass previous records. There is a likelihood that the day's total will reach 2,500,000 pounds.

Minister's Statement.

Hon. E. Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, issued the following statement to-day:

"Few of our industries possess great potentiality or finer possibilities than our vast fisheries. We have the resources to place us at the head of fish-producing nations and everyone can play a part in achieving this goal.

"Production just keeps pace with demand, and until consumption of our sea foods increases at home and abroad we must be content to utilize but a small portion of the wealth our fisheries will yield.

"Each person may contribue materially on National Fish Day, February 1, by maintaining the spirit of the time by studying the tremendous possibilities of a consistent use of fish."

CANADA TO SHARE IN WIRELESS CHAIN

No Representaives at Early Empire Conference

Defence Departments to Be Amalgamated First

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press)—The appointment of Canadian representatives to attend the suggested technical conference on inter-Empire wireless stations will probably not be made immediately, it is understood, pending matters with which the Government must deal. The report of the British Wireless Telegraph Commission recommended that Canadian representatives be named for such a conference.

Canada is expected to go ahead with her share of the proposals eventually. One of the reasons for the delayed action on the recommendation is understood to lie in the proposed amalgamation of the Naval Department with the Militia and other departments of defence under one Minister.

Plans for the amalgamation of the defence departments are expected to be completed in time to introduce a measure at the forthcoming session of Parliament.

TORONTO PASTOR HAS CRITICISM FOR LAUDER'S SONGS

Toronto, Jan. 28.—A special to The Mail and Empire from Glasgow says:

"Sir Harry Lauder's songs were severely criticized last night by the Rev. Boyd Scott, who said they were not typical of Scotland.

"Nearly everything Lauder sings," the clergyman said, "is shoddy. In fifty years none of it will be remembered.

"The actor has led those outside Scotland to believe that 'Roamin' in the Gloamin'' is a real Scotch song. If people want the true Scotch flavor," he said, "they should turn to Burns and leave Lauder out."

Luckily the Public Health Nurse, Miss Gamley, was located, and was soon in attendance, using her skill to alleviate the suffering of the little one, who is in a critical condition.

JOURNALISM WEEK IN SEATTLE ENDS WITH BANQUET

Seattle, Jan. 28.—The conclusion of the tenth annual Journalism Week, now in session at the University of Washington, will be celebrated to-night with an Hawaiian banquet at the commons banquet hall. For six days the Washington State Press Association has been meeting at the University. Last night 287 newspapermen had registered at convention headquarters in the School of Journalism office.

GREATER TRADE ANTICIPATED BY AUSTRALIANS

Washington, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press)—Australia's outlook for commercial and financial activity during 1922 is much brighter, according to a cable dispatch received from the United States trade commissioner in Melbourne. The prospects for a year of increased prosperity are based on the combined influence of an increasing export trade, a higher value of the pound sterling, lower freight rates, decreasing stocks of imported merchandise and improvement in banking conditions, which renders it easy to get credit.

NEW CABINET TO BE FORMED AT PEKING

Peking, Jan. 28.—Liang Shih Yi has tendered his resignation as Premier.

Dr. W. W. Yen, the Foreign Minister, who has been acting as Premier during his absence from Peking of Liang Shih Yi, is understood to have refused to accept the premiership on the grounds that he is needed in the Foreign Office.

BUSINESS FAILURES.

1922 Offer of Germany 2,170,000,000 Marks

Berlin, Jan. 28.—Germany's answer to the Allied Reparations Commission, handed to its Berlin representative to-day to be taken to Paris, proposes payment of 720,000,000 gold marks and 1,450,000,000 gold marks worth of goods to the Allies during 1922. The answer suggests, however, that in view of Germany's taxation burdens, these amounts be lowered.

The note, which is an answer to the recent request of the Reparations Commission for further explanations from Germany, notifies the Commission that she will be unable to meet fully the January and February reparations instalments and specifies the amount of goods to be delivered to each of the Allies.

The suggestion for lowering the payments does not name any particular sum as a desirable reduction.

The reply declares re-establishment of confidence in German credit is necessary if Germany is to carry out her obligations and it suggests the Allies co-operate toward an international reparations loan.

The necessity for the autonomy of the Reichsbank is pointed out and the reply is insistent upon a reduction in the cost of the armed occupation.

CONCLAVE WILL BEGIN FEBRUARY 3

Delay of Day to Accommodate Cardinals

Time For All Those Away to Arrive

Paris, Jan. 28.—A Rome dispatch to the Havas Agency says the opening of the conclave to elect a successor to Pope Benedict will be delayed twenty-four hours in order to give time for all the cardinals to arrive. The conclave originally was set for February 2.

Name.

Rome, Jan. 28.—What name the next Pope will choose is a query that is causing much discussion in Rome. The "irreconcilables" led by Cardinal Merry Del Val, if they succeed in electing their candidate, are understood to be in favor of Leo XIV. as successor to Leo XIII., who was always strongly opposed to the Quirinal. Should Cardinal Gasparri's peace party elect its candidate, it is believed that Benedict XVI. will be the name of the next Pope, on account of the late Pontiff's policy of closer relations with the Quirinal. If a compromise is reached, it is expected the neutral Pope elected will adopt the name of Pius XI. following the non-extremist policy of Pius X.

In Parliament.

Rome, Jan. 28.—Several Republican members of the Chamber of Deputies are considering interpellation of Premier Bonomi upon the advisability of the Italian Government officially recognizing the Pope. The attitude of the Sacred College of the church toward a rapprochement is expected to be defined in its choice of a successor to the late Pope Benedict.

The Republican Deputies became interested in the question when they learned that President de Nicola of the Chamber, in accord with the Government's policy, intended to pronounce a eulogy for the Pontiff when the Chamber reconvenes on February 2, which is also the date on which the Sacred College will convene to choose the new Pope.

Minister's Visit.

Several demands for interpellations were placed upon Signor de Nicola's desk yesterday, one protesting against what it termed the "official recognition of the Vatican by the visit of Signor Mauri, Minister of Agriculture, to the Holy See."

The members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican called at the Holy See to-day, and officially presented the condolences of their respective Governments upon the death of Pope Benedict.

Cardinal Mercier Ill.

Paris, Jan. 28.—Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, has stopped off at Milan on his way to Rome to attend the conclave of the Sacred College and is said to be suffering from an attack of influenza, says a Havas dispatch from Rome to-day.

He received an enthusiastic reception upon his arrival in Milan.

AGRICULTURISTS MET.

New Westminster, Jan. 28.—Nels Nelson was re-elected president of the Royal Agriculture Society at its 53rd annual meeting here yesterday. Honorary presidents are: Hon. John Oliver, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Lieutenant-Governor Nichol, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Senator J. D. Taylor, T. J. Troup, C. A. Welsh, Hon. W. R. Motherwell and T. J. Trapp.

FIRE ALARM WAS CAUSE OF PANIC

Lively Scramble in New Westminster School

Short Circuit Made the Bell Ring

New Westminster, Jan. 28.—Hundreds of screaming children fought to get out of the auditorium of the Duke of Connaught High School last evening when the fire alarm went off, causing a panic.

The frightened throng calmed down after Mrs. Peck started playing the piano and Miss Molly Peck commenced a dance.

The aisles of the auditorium were packed with children at the time the alarm went off. The place was crowded far beyond its seating capacity.

The occasion was the performance of the fairy ballet "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

The alarm is believed to have gone off as the result of a short circuit.

Three women fainted. One fell and was trampled on but was not badly hurt. Scores of the children had their attire disarranged, and in some cases torn, in the scramble. Others received bruises of a minor character.

WOULD UNDERSTAND VIEWS OF NATIVES

Winston Churchill Speaks of East African Problems

London, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Speaking with reference to political problems in East Africa, Winston Churchill, Colonial Secretary, last night pointed out that as a curious result of the war discontented elements in African and Asiatic countries seemed to think they had only to express the wish for great Britain to lay down the government and she would comply. It was high time, he said, that it was made clear that this was not the rule Great Britain intended to follow. "Nevertheless," he added, "we ought to ask ourselves whether good manners may not help as much as fine theories, and whether careful understanding of the views of the native populations may not be just as helpful in the maintenance of good relations as the promulgation of the most magnificent democratic principles."

Mr. Churchill proceeded to emphasize that the highlands of East Africa should be reserved exclusively for European settlers. This decision, he declared, must be regarded as final, as he did not intend to depart from it.

The Colonial Secretary said he wished to apply as broadly and comprehensively and as far as practicable the Rhodes principle of equal rights for all civilized men, meaning that natives and Indians who reached and conformed to the well-marked European standard should not be denied the fullest enjoyment of civic and political rights.

CRIES OF BABY SAVED ITS AND PARENTS' LIVES

Yakima, Wash., Jan. 28.—The cries of a nine-month-old baby saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Johnston and the child early yesterday at their home in the outskirts of this city. They were awakened just in time to escape. Their home was destroyed with all contents.

The blaze started from a stove left burning in the room where the baby slept, and the smoke caused the infant to cry.

The only exit for the parents was through the blazing room.

HEAVY STORM IN EASTERN STATES

Heaviest Snowfall Since Big Blizzard of 1899

Disturbance Moves North Along U. S. Seaboard

Washington, Jan. 28.—The states comprising the Middle Atlantic section of this country to-day were buried and were being further buried under the heaviest snowfall since the long-remembered blizzard of February, 1899.

The storm, which began with almost unprecedentedly heavy falls of snow in the Carolinas and Virginia Thursday, was creeping up the coast, leaving buried cities, stalled trains, disrupted trolley service and a general suspension of business and social activities in its wake. It had reached the edge of New England early to-day, although its centre remained off the Virginia Capes, weather bureau reports showed, and forecasts were for snow to-day and to-night along the coast from New York, North, although not so heavy as that over the Middle Atlantic section.

District of Columbia.

The blanket of snow early to-day was heaviest in the District of Columbia, with a fall recorded at 10 o'clock as an even two feet. At that time it was still snowing and the weather bureau prediction was a continuation of the fall through the day and into the night.

Starting shortly before dusk yesterday evening, the snow fell continuously through the night and by midnight railroads and trolley lines began to surrender. From midnight until 9 o'clock this morning no trains left the capital and only three trains, two from New York and one from the West, arrived.

At Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 28.—A blow reaching a velocity of fifty-six miles an hour early to-day, crippled waterfront activities here and practically suspending shipping in Hampton Roads.

Part of the business section of the city is under water and car traffic through several surburban sections has also been suspended as the result of high tides.

Last night's gale forced pilot boats to seek shelter in the inner harbor and foreign and coastwise movements have been suspended until the storm abates.

Sailings Postponed.

Heavy seas are pounding the coast at Cape Henry. Many small craft are anchored in Lynn Haven Roads and larger vessels have postponed sailings until the storm moderates.

Many dwellings at Willoughby Beach are threatened by high tides. Several cottages are surrounded by water and their foundations are in danger of giving way. Small boats are tied to porches.

Residents of sections of Portsmouth's best residential districts this morning were forced to wade several blocks on leaving their homes, owing to the unusually high tide, which covered the lower ends of Dinwiddie and North Streets to a depth of over a foot in some places.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW HERE

Is Strictly Local in Character

Four inches of snow fell in Victoria last evening, according to the records at Gonzales Observatory. Superintendent Denison logks for cold weather for two or three days and probably more snow. Snow is reported in the North, at Prince Rupert, but so far as the Island is concerned, the fall is strictly local, and does not extend far into the country districts. No snow is reported from the lower Mainland cities.

Rain is reported from Portland, but in the neighboring State the weather is cold.

VICTORIA SEEKS WOMAN JUDGE

Women See Attorney-General About Juvenile Court

Members of the Local Council of Women headed by Miss Crease appeared before the Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General, to-day and asked that a woman judge be appointed to preside over the juvenile court here.

Miss Jessie Brown, who has been prominent in the management of the Canadian Patriotic Aid, is suggested for the appointment by the women.

It was pointed out to the Attorney-General that the appointment of a woman judge would place the juvenile courts here on an equal standing with those of Vancouver where Mrs. Helen Gregory McGill is judge.

Mr. Farris told the women that nothing could be done just now because of the change in the office of the Attorney-General. He said it would have to wait until the Hon. A. M. Manson assumed the office.

In the deputation were Miss De Wolfe, Dr. Helen Ryan, Miss Thompson, Mrs. Spofford and Mrs. Schofield.

MOTHER KILLED.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Bernard Schiffliett, mother of six children were shot and instantly killed and her baby daughter severely wounded near Elkton when her son George, five years old, accidently discharged a shotgun.

Ex-Deputy Chief Palmer Drops Dead

Thomas Palmer, formerly Deputy Chief of Police, who was recently demoted by the City Police Commission to the rank of jailer sergeant, dropped dead at the corner of Bay and Douglas Streets at a quarter to three this afternoon. Mr. Palmer alighted from a street car at this point on his way to the police building. Witnesses of his collapse immediately communicated with the Police Department and the patrol brought the officer's body to the Police Station. Heart failure was believed to be the cause of the former Deputy Chief's death. He was 58 years of age.

B. C. LUMBER EXPORTS GROW

Foreign Countries Take 11 Per Cent.

Pattullo Aims to Raise It to 25 Per Cent.

Out of a total scale of all wood and lumber products from the mills of British Columbia last year amounting to 1,790,000,000 feet, there was exported to foreign countries as waterborne shipments 188,733,299 feet, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, announced to-day.

In 1920 the total export was 146,624,000 feet, and in 1919 it was 108,872,000 feet.

For last year, British Columbia's lumber exports to foreign countries, included under the class of waterborne shipments, came to 11 per cent. of the total scale of all wood products. Five years ago when Mr. Pattullo took office exports were only 4 per cent. of the total.

"We have got to keep on until we get our waterborne exports up to 25 per cent.," Mr. Pattullo said to-day.

SWEDEN TO SEND DELEGATES TO GENOA

Will Take Share in Economic Conference

Rome Paper States Opinion About United States

Stockholm, Jan. 28.—The Swedish Government has accepted the invitation to send representatives to the Genoa Economic Conference.

In its note to Premier Bonomi of Italy, the Government says it hopes the participation in the conference may be so general as to enable the work for the reconstruction of Europe to be begun in a spirit of reconciliation and co-operation.

Rome Paper's View.

London, Jan. 28.—A dispatch to The London Times from Rome, commenting on the report that the United States Government may refuse to participate in the Genoa conference, quotes The Giornale d'Italia as saying:

In the opinion of the United States it is still too early to talk of European reconstruction. It is as though the doctor said it would be premature for him to attend an invalid until the illness had reached a crisis."

The Italian newspaper expresses the opinion that the real reason for the reported refusal of the United States to participate is a fear of Bolshevism.

In Pacific.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—"The United States is turning her face from Europe to seek her own domain in the Pacific," says The Taeglische Rundschau in commenting on reports in circulation yesterday that the United States would not participate in the Genoa Economic Conference. The newspaper expresses the belief that American interest in trans-Atlantic affairs will continue to wane until Europe gives evidence of "stabilization and business-like conduct."

HALIFAX REPORTER LIVES TWO WEEKS IN HAUNTED HOUSE

Halifax, Jan. 28.—By drawing lots a member of the reporterial staff of The Halifax Herald was selected last night to live two weeks in a deserted farmhouse, alleged to be haunted, at Caledonia Mills, an isolated spot in Antigonish County, N.S. About a week ago the owner of the farmhouse, Alex. McDonald, moved away with his family, alleging that numerous little fires had broken out in unlikely places about the house, and that spooks had been riding his horses at night and scattering his cattle over the landscape.

BANK CUTS CITY'S LOAN BY ONE-THIRD

To Extend Only $500,000 Advance

Plan Earlier Tax Collections and Other Levies

Announcement from the head office of the Bank of Montreal that it cannot loan the city more than $500,000 this year to cover city expenses until the Fall, instead of the $750,000 loaned last year, brought the city authorities to-day squarely up against a current financial problem which will necessitate drastic measures of economy.

Plans now under consideration for solving this problem and making it possible for the city to carry on its business until it can collect the annual land taxes are:

1. Radical paring of estimates in all city departments and reductions in school costs.
2. Collection of land taxes in September, instead of in November.
3. Opening up or new sources of revenue, including possibly tax on improvements.
4. Revision of trades licenses upward.

Cut Down Loan.

The refusal of the Bank of Montreal to loan the city more than half a million dollars to cover running expenses until the Fall tax collections was made known to-day by Mayor Marchant. Some days ago the civic finance authorities applied to the Bank for a loan of $750,000 to pay expenses from now until late in the year. This was the sum borrowed for similar purposes last year. The local branch of the Bank laid the city's request before the head offices at Montreal. In reply to this communication the head office replied that the bank could not loan the city only $500,000 this year. The telegram from the head office of the bank intimated that its decision to cut down the annual loan had been dictated by the fact that the city had carried over an accumulated bank shortage of $395,000 this year, the Mayor stated.

"The shortage in revenues and consequent shortages at the bank started in 1918," the Mayor explained. "In that year there was a shortage of over $300,000 and this shortage has been carried over until this time. It was added to by $25,000 and then last year the shortage was increased by $60,000 under what was supposed to have been the 'business' regime of my esteemed predecessor. Thus there is to-day a shortage of $395,000 and as a consequence of this situation the Bank of Montreal has refused to advance us more than $500,000.

"We could get along with a loan of $500,000 if it were not for the abnormal unemployment situation which forces the City to give relief to a much greater extent than ever before and which imperils the very financial position of the City itself.

Put Back Tax Date.

"It is obvious now to me that, in the first place, one thing must be done. Collection of taxes must be put back at least one month and, I believe, two months—that is to say, from November to September. By this means we would save interest on the money for two months and, secondly, we shall know three months before the end of the year what amounts we shall receive in taxes for the whole year so that during these last three months we could pare down City estimates to meet the situation.

"As I suggested in my inaugural address, a by-law should be passed to compel succeeding Councils to put annual tax collections back one month each year until the collection takes place at a more reasonable date.

Opposes Land Tax Raise.

"I am absolutely opposed to any further taxes on land values on the ground that it is most improbable that such taxes could be collected," the Mayor stated. It may be that other sources of revenue and taxation can be found."

Asked what additional sources of revenue the civic authorities were planning to open up, the Mayor stated that revision of trade license fees would be considered and taxes on improvements had been suggested. His Worship had before him to-day the plans of the Vancouver City Council for increasing license fees this year, and thus raising $320,000. The new scale of license fees to be inaugurated in Vancouver is being investigated by the Mayor and Alderman E. S. Woodward, Chairman of the civic Finance Committee, to ascertain whether Victoria's licenses are much lower than those which will be enforced in the Terminal City. The Mayor said to-day that he would approach the license fee question with an "open mind" but added that the possibility of raising more revenue through license fees

BRITISH MAY LAND MARINES AT HANKOW

Salt Administration Office Is Menaced

Chinese Leader Gave Orders to His Troops

Peking, Jan. 28.—British marines are being held in readiness to land at Hankow to protect the salt administration office against seizure by the forces of General Wu Pei Fu, who are said to be under orders to occupy it.

Hankow is a treaty port in the province of Hupeh. General Wu is inspector-general of that province and was reported in a dispatch on January 22 to have seized the salt [illegible] there.

New Ministers Are Sworn In This Morning

Hon. A. M. Manson Succeeds Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, and Hon. W. H. Sutherland Becomes Minister of Public Works.

Vancouver, Jan. 28.—Hon. A. M. Manson, member of the Legislature for Omineca and Speaker of the House, was this morning sworn in as Attorney-General of British Columbia, and Dr. W. H. Sutherland, member for Revelstoke, was sworn in as Minister of Public Works, before Lieutenant-Governor Nichol here to-day. Premier John Oliver had come over from Victoria for the swearing-in formalities.

Mr. Manson succeeds Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, whose resignation was given to take effect the end of the month, while Dr. Sutherland assumes the office vacated by Hon. J. H. King, who is to become Minister of Public Works in the Federal Cabinet.

Lieut.-Governor Nichol and Premier Oliver returned to Victoria on this morning's boat.

By-Election Dates Not Set

The Premier took Dr. Sutherland and Mr. Manson with him to Vancouver last night to interview the Lieutenant-Governor, when it was learned that the Lieutenant-Governor was not returning to Victoria until Saturday. This move was made because of the anxiety of the Premier to have no further delay in getting the appointments finally settled.

It is not yet known when the by-elections necessitated by the elevation of these two members to cabinet rank will be held.

AMBASSADOR NOT DENIED HEARING

Report About French Minister to U. S. Unfounded

Rumor Was First Published in London

Paris, Jan. 28.—Official notice has been taken by the French Foreign Office of an article in The Morning Post of London, reproduced here, alleging that both President Harding and Secretary Hughes had refused to receive Ambassador Jusserand.

Official and political circles were much surprised at the article and the Foreign Office regards it as entirely lacking in plausibility, but Premier Poincare has asked Ambassador Jusserand to clear up the report.

Denial.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Denial, flat and categorical, was made to-day by officials at the State Department and the White House that either Secretary Hughes or President Harding ever had refused to receive Ambassador Jusserand of France, as reported in The London Morning Post.

Officials were positive in their statements that the French Ambassador had been received whenever he had indicated a desire to see the President or the Secretary of State.

Embassy.

Denial of the report also was made by French Embassy officials.

M. Jusserand could not be reached, but his secretary said the report was too preposterous to be conceivable.

TORONTO DEATH MYSTERY SOLVED

A. Buchanan Died After Taking "Beauty Powder"

J. Buchanan, His Father, Committed Suicide To-day

Toronto, Jan. 28.—According to Detective Inspector Guthrie this afternoon, the body of James Buchanan was identified by C. McCarthy, a Hamilton printer, as that of the man who on. January 13 secured from him samples of printing of directions for a "beauty powder" of similar description to those which accompanied the powder which caused the death of Buchanan's son, Anderson, January 18.

An earlier dispatch from Toronto said: James Buchanan, father of Anderson Buchanan, who lost his life as a result of taking a mysterious poison, committed suicide at his home in Toronto this morning.

Anderson Buchanan, aged twenty-two, a promising law student, died suddenly January 18 after taking a mysterious potion labelled "Beauty Powder," which had been sent to his mother in the mail a few days previously. The young man took the powder as a "joke." Unfortunately the envelope and the directions which accompanied the powder had been destroyed and the police were handicapped in their investigations until yesterday, when printers were discovered in Hamilton who remembered a stranger ordering some printing of this description and getting samples. He did not come back. The printers arrived in Toronto to-day in an endeavor to identify the man.

James Buchanan, who was found dead to-day, was the father of Anderson and had lived apart from his wife and family for some years.

GRAIN SHIPPED FROM THIS COAST

7,000,000 Bushels Come This Way From Prairies

Winnipeg and Eastern Men Investigating

Calgary, Jan. 28.—Local grain men estimate that the total bookings of wheat by way of Vancouver this season will amount to approximately 7,000,000 bushels. Last year they represented less than 500,000 bushels.

In the course of an interview to-day with one of the representatives in Calgary of a Vancouver exporting house, the Canadian Press was informed that the premium that was now being paid for wheat going by way of the coast as compared with Fort William represented an everage of $100 a car.

"There is every indication," he said, "that great as the increase has been this season in the Vancouver shipments, it will be largely exceeded next season. For some considerable time there has been a regular procession of New York, Chicago and Winnipeg grain agents to the coast, looking carefully into the new route, and they have apparently come to the unanimous decision that the new channel of shipment to the United Kingdom will become permanent."

Two-Thirds.

The broker stated there was every likelihood that in the course of the next few years two-thirds of the wheat grown in Alberta and Western Saskatchewan would be shipped by way of the British Columbia coast. Of course farmers would benefit by any premium paid over the Fort William basis, which, he said, at the present time meant a considerable item when the price of wheat was so low.

WAR RUMOR UNFOUNDED.

Mexico City, Jan 28.—Rumors of war between Mexico City and Guatemala were described by a high Mexican official last night as "too ridiculous to deny." The semi-official sources were positive in denying the reports.

RATS AND MICE OVERRUN BUDAPEST

Millions Arrive From Russian Famine District

Budapest, Jan. 28.—Rats and mice are migrating in swarms from the Russian famine district and Budapest is now overrun with them. All efforts to rid the city of this scourge have failed and the devastation caused by them goes on apace. The market hall, food stores and warehouses are swarming with the rodents, which run about even in the daytime. So dangerous have they become that when disturbed they will turn and show fight. Several merchants have been bitten.

Cats Needed.

The situation is aggravated by the dearth of cats in Hungary. During the war, when food was scarce, thousands of families ate their cats. Since then the increasing demand for cat fur as a cheap substitute for expensive furs has taken a further toll. As a consequence, the comparatively exorbitant price of 3,000 to 4,000 kroner is being offered for a kitten by shopkeepers.

In some villages the peasants have given up poultry raising and have turned to the more lucrative business of cat breeding.

WILL TALK UPON SAANICH AFFAIRS EIGHTEEN TIMES

Councillor Simpson's Campaign Plans Issued

The following meetings for the discussion of Saanich affairs have been called for next week by the supporters of Mr. Simpson's candidature for the Reeveship: Monday, Craigflower School and Marigold Hall; Tuesday, Royal Oak; Wednesday, St. Luke's Parish Hall, Cedar Hill; Thursday, Keating Temperance Hall; Friday, Cloverdale School, and Cadboro Bay.

In addition Mr. Simpson will be present at the Ward Two Ratepayers' Association meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening in the Tolmie School, the Ward Four Association meeting on Wednesday at Strawberry Vale School, and the Ward Seven Association meeting on Saturday night at Tillicum.

Mr. Simpson stated that he had not given thought to the matter of allowing Reeve Watson the privilege of the platform at the meetings called by his committee, though his adversary would doubtless appear at the Ward Association meetings. "I am paying the cost of these meetings, I shall be speaking at several gatherings a night, and shall not be able to answer charges made in my absence. However, this matter is one for my committee to decide," he said.

Asked as to the personnel of his committee, Mr. Simpson declined to say more than that it was a large body, including a number of gentlemen who, Mr. Simpson told The Times, had hitherto supported Reeve Watson and are now offering aid subject to their names being withheld from publicity.

During the week before polling, Mr. Simpson's programme includes the following meetings: Monday, February 6, Prospect Lake and Tolmie; Tuesday, February 7, West Saanich Hall, Ward Six; Wednesday, February 8, Cordova Bay at 4 p. m., and North Dairy School at 8 p. m.; Thursday, February 9, Mackenzie Avenue School, and Gordon Head Hall, with the closing rally on Friday evening at Tolmie School.

Y.M.C.A. WILL STAGE STUNTS PROGRAMME

Boys to Give Surprise to Parents and Friends in Annual Event

For weeks and perhaps months the boys at the Y. M. C. A. have been preparing for the big annual stunt night, to which they will invite their friends and parents and stage a vaudeville programme which is expected to be of an exceptional quality to-night. Every year this is looked forward to by the boys of the various clubs at the "Y," who try to outdo one another in surprise stunts. Here are some of the tricks that the boys are going to pull off: Pyramids, mock trials, shadowgraph, dramatic sketches, comedies and pantomimes. Judging from previous years this one will top the list.

A stage has been erected on the gymnasium floor where the stunts are to be held, and footlights are being installed to give an added effect to the vaudeville. A large attendance is expected at this big event, and a small fee will be charged, the proceeds to increase the funds for the Y. M. C. A. work in India, which is being supported by local organizations.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one, of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

"I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our MILBURNS HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Mayor Requests Chamber of Commerce to Act

An investigation into the comparative cost of commodities in Victoria and other cities is the suggestion put forward to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce by Mayor Marchant. His Worship thinks that this is a matter of such vital importance to the general public that no harm could result from an open inquiry to find out just what Victorians are paying for food, clothing and other supplies in comparison with cities similarly located, such as Vancouver and Seattle. A civic inquiry of this character was conducted in 1911.

This is only one of various important matters which will be dealt with by the directors, who will meet at Spencer's Lunch Room at 12.30 Monday noon to discuss the Mayor's letter, and affairs of the Chamber.

The "Co-Operation With Saanich" group of the Chamber will dine with the directors on Monday, and after luncheon a discussion will be held as to just what may be done by the city and its neighbor to promote the general welfare of both.

ATLIN PIONEER ON VISIT HERE

Mining Will Recover in Atlin District, He Thinks

The two staple industries of the Atlin district, apart from the tourist traffic, are mines and furs. Both these industries have been somewhat handicapped, according to Jules Eggert, the well-known Atlin jeweler, who is at the Dominion Hotel. Mr. Eggert, however, is able to present reasons why both should show improvement in the present season.

Dealing with mining, to The Times Mr. Eggert pointed out that he had been a resident since the Winter of 1898, and had observed the various cycles of activity and depression in the intervening years. The most serious effect on the industry in that district, in his opinion, is the litigation regarding the Engineer mine. Since the estate of the late Captain James Alexander, who perished in the Princess Sophia disaster has been before the courts development has been handicapped, and as a result the Engineer mine has only received a limited amount of development and other properties have held back awaiting a decision in the Engineer case.

Mr. Eggert spoke of another important group of claims, those of J. M. Ruffner, in the vicinity of Crater Lake, as being very hopeful. Turning to placer mining he commended the activities on Ruby Creek, and in the McKee Creek district. He is one of those who do not regard the Atlin district as worked out by any means, and he states that much has yet to be done to enable the full value of the mineral resources of the district to be judged.

Fur Industry.

The fur industry shows some improvement, according to Mr. Eggert who states that the small game birds upon which the fur bearing animals prey have for some time been scarce in the Atlin area, but recently more have been seen, and it is expected there will be a better trapping season reported for 1921-22 than has hitherto been recorded. The business will, in his opinion, pick up in the near future.

Tourist Traffic.

The beautiful Atlin Lake is the subject of favorable attention from an increasing number of tourists annually, Mr. Eggert stated. The hotel had been extended, and the scenery and fishing and boating attractions are drawing an increasing number of persons, he stated.

ANOMALY IN ACTS

Federal and Provincial Measures Both Have Claim on Estate of Late James Dunbar.

Application was made before Judge Lampman on Friday for letters of administration to the estate of James Dunbar. The late James Dunbar died at Kamloops over seven years ago, leaving no known relatives in this country, but with certain estate, mainly money in a local bank.

In such a case it is the duty of the official administrator under the Provincial Administration Act to take out letters of administration, get possession of the money, and place it in the hands of the Minister of Finance, where it is kept until someone showing a legal right makes claim.

Under the Bank Act (Dominion Act), however, which holds authority over the banks which are Dominion institutions, if a person dies and after a certain length of time no claim is made for the money it is handed over to the Dominion Minister of Finance, who is supposed to keep it in trust until someone with a legal right claims it.

The money belonging to the Dunbar Estate has under the Bank Act been transferred to the Department of Finance at Ottawa.

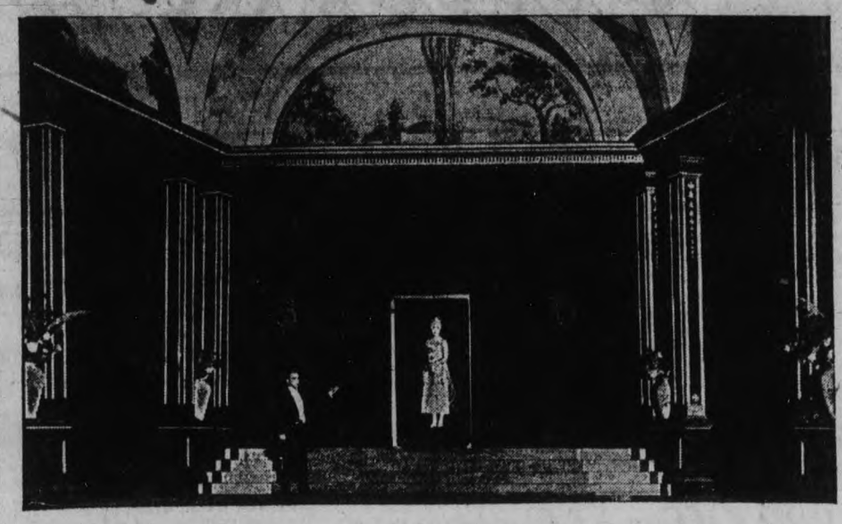

The court has granted administration to the Official Administrator, who will present his authority to the local bank to hand over the money in order that it may be deposited with the Provincial Finance Department until it is claimed.

Should any controversy arise it is likely that an action would take place in the nature of a test case to determine which Government has the right to the money.

Gordon M. Campbell, of Monteith & Campbell, is appearing for the Official Administrator.

CHINAMAN PUZZLES COURT WITH STORY

Alleged That His Partner Was Fined by Tribunal of Which No Record Exists

Wong Yeu Jung, charged with being found in an "opium joint," at cabin 28 Theatre Alley, pleaded not guilty. He was convicted and fined $25, and $6.50 costs in the police court to-day.

Jung mystified the court by stating that his room mate, one Li Mon, had been arrested the day after the accused and "taken to Esquimalt, where he was fined $52.50." The court had no record of any Chinaman being fined in either the city, or the Esquimalt court on that day. On cross-examination the accused stood by his story, with every appearance of innocence.

The accused stated that the opium smoking gear being used as evidence in this case was similar to that used against the partner on the alleged occasion. The court responded that if the partner should have been before any court the gear would have been confiscated.

Formal evidence of the finding of equipment was given.

J. T. Bowker, charged with being drunk in public, failed to answer his name in the police court this morning, bail to the extent of $100 being declared estreated.

WITNESSES HEARD AT ARBUCKLE TRIAL

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Katherine Fox, Chicago, the last witness yesterday, resumed her prosecution rebuttal testimony today at the second trial of a manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress. Mrs. Fox was called in an effort to refute the defence evidence that Miss Rappe died as the result of a chronic bladder complaint and not as the result of an alleged attack by Arbuckle.

Mrs. Fox testified that she had known Miss Rappe for a number of years and never knew the actress to be ill in this period of acquaintanceship.

Mrs. Kate Hardebeck, housekeeper for Miss Rappe in Los Angeles, also testified to acquaintance with Miss Rappe for a number of years.

"Her health always appeared to be very good," Mrs. Hardebeck said. "However, on one occasion she was treated in Chicago for what she said was nervousness."

2,000,000 IDLE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Number Grows Smaller; Disorders Cause Arrests

London, Jan. 27.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Nine arrests were made in Southwark last night following a demonstration by unemployed persons. The police were forced to use their batons in order to restore order.

In a demonstration held at West Bromwich on Tuesday five of the leaders of the unemployed were arrested on charges of intimidation.

Although the number of unemployed in the United Kingdom had been reduced by 250,000 on January 17, there are nearly 2,000,000 still out of work.

The High Commissioner for South Africa has issued a warning to intending immigrants that they will be refused admittance to that country unless they are provided with written evidence of definite employment or sufficient means to maintain themselves for at least six months.

BREAD WAR IN SWANSEA, WALES

Price Cut by One Firm; Strike Possible

London, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A bread war, staged by the bakers of Swansea, Wales, and brought on primarily by a catering firm that reduced the price of a loaf of bread by two pence, has reached an acute stage, with the prospects before a settlement is reached, of involving others than those directly interested in the baking business.

When a catering firm recently announced a reduction in the bread price from ten pence to eight pence, the price prevailing in London, Welsh millers retaliated by cutting off the firm's supply of flour. This action, it was reported, was brought about by pressure from the master bakers, who, it is said, threatened to boycott the millers. The bakers then came to the front and declared they would see to it that the catering firm received an adequate supply of flour, and rather than see the originators of the lower price go down to defeat, will call out the men employed by the master bakers.

The master bakers, to meet the cut in price, went the caterers one better and have been selling bread outside the caterers' shop for six pense a loaf. The public, apparently sympathetic toward the price-cutting firm, is not buying the six pence loaf.

CRITICISM HEARD IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 28.—Slashing criticism of this City in regard to social conditions was heard last night at the annual meeting of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies. J. S. Brierly, the President, declared that after long observation of municipal government in Montreal he believed there was no city in the Western world where conditions were worse than they had been in Montreal during the past quarter of a century. The bulk of the cost of maintenance of hospitals fell, he said, on the English - speaking and Protestant group, while in education the Protestants here also had to bear the cost in regard to children who were not Protestant. Further, neither Municipal nor Provincial authorities had assumed responsibility for the care of the poor and sick or for those who were delinquent or handicapped.

BISHOP GRISDALE DIED IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Jan. 28. — Right Rev. John Grisdale, D.D., D.C.L., former Bishop of Qu'Appelle, whose long connection with the life of Western Canada dated from 1873, died here last night, aged 76.

He was born at Bolton, Lancashire, England, June 25, 1845. He was elected Bishop of Qu'Appele in 1896. His retirement took place about ten years ago.

He reached Manitoba in May, 1873, and took over St. Andrew's parsonage, on the Red River, in the midst of a railroadless land. During his half century in the country, Bishop Grisdale took the deepest interest in all that concerned the welfare of the Anglican church in the Northwest. He was present at the first meeting of the synod of the undivided diocese of Rupertsland. He was in 1875 a delegate to the first meeting of the provincial synod, to which he was thereafter a delegate continuously.

Bishop Grisdale, then dean, was a member of the first conference on the consolidation of the church in Canada. He was a delegate to the first session of the General Synod in Canada, and sat as chairman of the House of Delegates for the first four days. His work for education, hand in hand with his church work, was continued in Saskatchewan. In 1907 he was elected a senator of the Saskatchewan University.

"SAHARA EMPEROR'S" DAUGHTER MARRIED

Jaqueline Lebaudy Wedded in Paris to R. Sudreau

New York, Jan. 28.—Jaqueline Lebaudy, daughter of the late Jacques Lebaudy, self-styled "Emperor of the Sahara," has been married in Paris to Roger Sudreau, it was learned here to-day through an announcement by Ernest Suffern, administrator of the estate of the young woman's father.

Lebaudy, an eccentric figure, was shot and killed by his wife three years ago when he attacked her and her daughter at the family home on Long Island. Madame Lebaudy was tried and acquitted.

About twenty years ago Jacques Lebaudy and his brother, Max, who claimed they inherited a vast fortune from their father, began to obtain prominence in dispatches from Europe. After Max died, leaving to his brother his share of the father's estate, the latter conceived a plan of forming an African Empire and ordered built in London a magnificent throne. International complications developed and the plan came to naught.

BOWSER COMES OUT FOR SALARY CUT

Suggests Cutting $1,000,000 From Civil Servants

Vancouver, Jan. 28.—"The people of this Province, in my opinion, should take more interest in our public affairs, and become better informed on conditions as they are," W. J. Bowser, K. C., Conservative Opposition leader, said in his address at Kerrisdale.

Dealing with the subject of retrenchment, which he stated was one of the cries upon which the Liberals were returned to power five years ago, he declared that the salaries vote for this year was a million and a half dollars more than it was when the Conservatices left office, while the public debt of the Province had been increased by thirty-five millions, and salaries in connection with the liquor administration amounted to nearly half a million dollars a year.

"The very best talent is necessary to grapple with the financial conditions of the country," he continued. "British Columbia is in a bad way. We should all join, irespective of party, to try to get a better government."

If he were elected to office, he said, he would surround himself with a well-balanced cabinet. First, he would retrench. He would act towards the business of the country the same as the manager of a large wholesale house would do. He would cut out all the political deadwoods, and there were many in the different departments, he added. He would try to reduce taxation, "and if the salaries were cut down one million it would go a long way to lessen taxation.

The Pacific Great Eastern Railway, he continued, should not only be connected up with Prince George, but it should be extended into the Peace River country, which would be the means of bringing the grain through its natural port of Vancouver, and would also secure the growing trade of Alberta. He would also introduce a constructive policy, and would encourage the development of the natural resources of the country.

"I think I am safe in saying that public interest is aroused all over the Province, and we have as many people on the Government side complaining as on our own,' declared Thomas Pearson, M. P. P., who was the first speaker. He characterized the administration as extravagant, stating that there was a fleet of 180 automobiles in service for officials, and their travelling expenses were costing the taxpayers $600,000 a year.

TEAM WORK IS URGED BY FEDERAL LABOR MINISTER

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—"What we want to-day is a cohesive effort and determination on the part of Canadian citizens without regard to position or business connections—an effort of labor men, business men and professional men to unite to the end that we shall change certain undesirable conditions that to-day exist," was a statement made here last evening by Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, in addressing the annual meeting of the Ottawa Board of Trade.

Mr. Murdock declared that "conditions seem to have gone from bad to worse since November 11, 1918, when the armistice was signed, until to-day, when we find in Canada some 200,000 men out of work and business generally in some respects in a most uncertain state."

Mr. Murdock described this condition as largely due to the disturbances arising out of the war.

It was stated in certain quarters that labor organizations were to a certain extent responsible for conditions as they existed to-day, said Mr. Murdock. There might be a substantial amount of truth in the statement, but fundamental principles would have to be recognized by both sides. It was the duty of both employers and employees to get together now in an endeavor to prevent wasting working weather in the Spring in disputes.

"I hope," said the Minster of Labor, "that in the years which have gone I have been able to absorb some of the proper point of view of both sides to the great question. At any rate, teamwork and co-operation are the great questions in Canada to-day, and the proper solution will make Canada a prosperous and wealthy nation."

RHODESIANS TO DECIDE THEIR FUTURE

London, Jan. 28.—A Reuter cable from Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, says that the elected members of the Executive Council, after a long debate, adopted a resolution accepting the draft of the new constitution for Southern Rhodesia, which was recently prepared at a conference in London between Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and delegates from Southern Rhodesia.

The resolution expresses the view that the proposed constitution offers the people of Southern Rhodesia a form of administration enabling them to control their own affairs as a British colony and work out their own destiny as citizens of the British Empire.

The draft will be submitted to a referendum of the people of Southern Rhodesia.

The people will also be asked to vote on the question of entering the South African Union as a province under terms to be announced after another conference with the Union Government.

292 ORPHANS GO BACK TO POLAND

Little Refugees Circle the Earth via United States

New York, Jan. 28.—The steamship Princess Matoika, sailing to-day for Danzig, had on her passenger list 292 Polish orphans who were beginning the last lap of a trip around the world. They fled their native land two years ago to escape starvation and death in the wake of the Red Bolshevik armies, then driving hard against the Polish forces defending the capital of the republic.

The little globetrotters are to be returned to Warsaw, where the Polish Government will find homes for them.

When the children reached Siberia in their flight, they were taken in charge by officials of the American Relief Society and sent to this country by way of Japan. From Seattle they were sent to Chicago, where they were placed in orphan asylums. Almost two years elapsed before the completion of arrangements which will give them homes in Poland.

PRIEST KILLED BY A BURGLAR

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The Rev. Florian Chodmiewicz, pastor of St. Florence's Roman Catholic Church in South Chicago, died last night, the victim of a bullet fired by a burglar, believed to have been seeking Sacramental wine. The shooting occurred in the parish house.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, become very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

NOW DISCUSSING TARIFF AGREEMENT

Australia and New Zealand Debating Preference

Wellington, N.Z., Jan. 27.—As the outcome of threats of tariff retaliation and the placing of Australia on the general New Zealand tariff, the Australian Parliament has passed a Bill empowering the Federal Government to ener into negotiations with New Zealand.

According to the provisions of the measure, the purpose is to place New Zealand on the preferential list in return for New Zealand doing the same. The Australian Minister of Customs points out that even this arrangement will give Australia the best of the bargain and he strongly advocates ratification by both parties of whatever arrangement is reached as the result of the negotiations.

It is expected that in a few weeks the new trade agreement will be concluded. It will come into force by proclamation in both countries.

Meat Pool.

Because New Zealand beef, mutton and lamb producers find that after they have produced $44,000,000 worth of produce it is worth in Britain, their chief market, only $20,000,000, the difference being absorbed in freight charges and other expenses, they have decided, with Government aid, to form a meat pool, somewhat on the lines of a system which prevailed during the war.

It is estimated that the New Zealand producers lose so heavily on getting their meat to market that when they have marketed it, they are $3,500,000 worse off than if they had kept it at home and allowed it to rot. The cause of this is the glut of war-meat in London and the growing competition of the Argentine beef and mutton. Whereas formerly Argentina sent 500,000 carcases yearly to London, she now sends nearly 2,000,000 and though the meat is not so good as the New Zealand meat so much bad New Zealand meat got on the British market both during and after the war that New Zealand's reputation suffered severely.

In Bulk.

Under the proposed pool, which is to be compulsory, all meat is to be graded like Canadian wheat and exported in bulk instead of in individual shipments as at present. The quality will be guaranteed and there will be one set of consignees in England who will take charge on arrival there and sell to the retailers. The Government will assist with the financing and arrange through a producers' committee at this end for advances to the farmers

Too Much Credit

Mrs. Hopkins says we have taken too much credit for Pacific Milk in her recipes. She says: "I do like Pacific Milk and know it is very important in my baking, but I should not like to guarantee the same results if I didn't have Dr. Price's Baking Powder."

We quite agree with her that good baking powder is as essential as good milk.

BELIEVE AUSTRIA SHOULD BE AIDED

Paris, Jan. 28.—The disquieting news from Vienna is causing the French Government considerable anxiety. There appears to be a disposition on the part of the Government officials to do whatever is possible to help relieve Austria's financial situation.

It was said yesterday there probably would be an exchange of views among the Allies with a view to determining what aid is necessary.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The Winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels, and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANOTHER TANTRUM COMING?

The Vancouver Sun features on its front page the statement that "Victoria loses the $5,000,000 drydock." The announcement is inaccurate, but our neurotic Mainland contemporary rarely bothers itself about accuracy in dealing with anything or anybody it does not like. It knows, of course, that the Esquimalt project, like the Vancouver scheme and every other public work initiated by the late Government, is under review by the new Federal Administration, which does not mean that it will not be proceeded with. The Sun always opposed the construction of a drydock at Esquimalt, ostensibly on the ground of economy, and figuratively tore its hair and scolded like a fish-wife when it realized that its diatribes had no effect upon Ottawa.

THE HIGH COMMISSIONER AND AGENTS-GENERAL.

Canada's Agents-General in London have repeatedly drawn attention to the fact that the Canadian High Commissioner has religiously followed a course that relegated these important Provincial officials to the background on many occasions when neither social nor official convention would have been so much as bent if the Federal representative had included them in the various invitation lists which are supplied from his office in Victoria Street. Agent-General Wade has devoted a good deal of consideration to the constitutional aspects of the relationship between the Agents-General and the High Commissioner and his appeal to the late Prime Minister for Dominion recognition of their status in London formed the subject of a lengthy memorandum. It is now suggested that the new Administration will be approached by the officials concerned in order that the arguments presented by British Columbia's representative may be reinforced with another communication setting forth the friction caused by the lack of harmony between the two agencies. It is obvious that the Provincial officials would not desire to waste their time at every little "cat and dog hanging" that takes place; but it should be a simple matter to regard the more important functions of a public nature from the Australian standpoint—the recognition of complete association between the High Commissioner and the Agents-General of the different States.

THE DRUG TRAFFIC.

Perusal of the Old Country newspapers from time to time provides all the proof that is necessary to indicate that this continent is by no means alone in its perplexity over an increasing illicit drug traffic. What has developed into the regular "dope" orgy seems to have taken hold of the Anglo-Saxon people during the last few years to an extent that would have been considered impossible two decades ago. And the tragic part of the business is furnished by the obvious difficulty in dealing with it. The ordinary thief or burglar in spite of all his cunning is a child in swaddling clothes compared with the drug addict. Official regulations have been tightened from time to time and every conceivable method of detection has been pressed into service without much effect. There remains little else but the "cat" and long terms of imprisonment for the professional peddler. Fines have no terror and are promptly paid out of the huge profits that are piled up.

NEW EMBARGO POINTS.

Some of the interests opposed to the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle have discovered new reasons why the Government should take plenty of time before making a decision. They seem to have divided the Cabinet itself to such a point that the real origin of the embargo and the findings of the Finlay Commission have become lost in a lively apprehension lest the free admission of livestock from this country should destroy the Irish monopoly and create a new feud to take the place of the old. To set against this is a legal speculation as to whether or not Ireland and Canada are clothed with a similar political status that would automatically create a new angle from which to view the embargo and the benefits which accrue to Ireland. This point is said to have been effectively answered by the language of the Diseases of Animals Act in its provision for the free importation of cattle from all parts of the geographical area constituting the United Kingdom. On the other hand it has yet to be declared that the Irish Free State, which was never contemplated when the Act referred to was passed in 1894 and amended in 1896, will be legally regarded as a part of the United Kingdom henceforward. At any rate if these features of the issue do not delay a decision the rural vote may provide the influence necessary to shelve it until after the next general election.

HOWITZERS VERSUS SINCERITY.

None of the Allied nations is ready to fall upon the neck of Germany in the loving embrace of a forgotten past. Nor is there any tangible evidence that she is going to get off as lightly as may have seemed apparent from the recent trend of economic interchanges between some of the creditor nations. It would even be uncomplimentary to German intelligence or belated appreciation of her new position in the world's affairs to suggest that she herself is likely to fall victim to such an illusion. She must always remember that the value of the Wirth policy and other evidences of good faith will be measured only by actual performance. If she desires to cultivate a proper atmosphere of mutual trust and increase her moral standing accordingly it is within her power to do so. On the other hand she must not grumble if France interprets the discovery of buried howitzers as an additional stimulus to her policy of performance by penalty.

HARDING MOVES.

Although the time may not be ripe for the Canadian Parliament to consider the plan to connect the Great Lakes with the sea by deepening the St. Lawrence and expanding the existing canal system President Harding has already taken the initiative for the United States by instructing Secretary Hughes to draft the Treaty that would govern the provisions of participation by the two countries. While this move on the President's part is nothing more than a preliminary constitutional step it indicates the manner in which the people on the other side regard this highly important project. In the meantime we shall have to cool our heels and wait for an improvement in Canadian finances before this country will be able to take advantage of the tremendous stimulus in development that the fruition of such a plan would assure.

"REGULATING" WAR.

One of the London dailies has selected the academic aspect of the submarine controversy as a justification for its belief that the Washington debate on this particular subject was "hampered by an honorable illusion." It takes the view that when Mr. Balfour and his colleagues at the gathering began to ask one another whether submarines "ought" to be abolished they should have pursued the argument to its logical conclusion and agreed that war should be abolished. On the other hand it is puzzled to know how humanitarian motives can be strong enough to kill war—which, by the way, kills all humanity—if they are not strong enough to suppress submarines or any device which may help a belligerent to win quickly In other words the inquiry brings us back to the point upon which German sophists of carnage used to dwell in their justification of a "merciful" war: "Wars swiftly ended are kinder than wars prolonged." But once you give up the idea or the hope that war itself can or "ought" to be prevented it would seem to imply a renunciation of all restrictions upon it. For it will have to be admitted that the late conflict provided a lamentable proof that no "regulations" can "prevent the inhumane employment" of any inhuman invention. Upon this basis of reasoning does another international conference that would assemble to re-write the laws of war hold any practical hope?

AS OTHERS SEE HER.

Two or three French newspapers have come to the conclusion that this "greatest European democracy needs to cease fooling herself" and should discontinue "to play the role of a recalcitrant school boy that needs his ears pinched." These two quoted excerpts from the Petit Parisien and the Paris Midi indicate that France is beginning to see herself as others see her. The burden of this particular display of penitence seems to be a realization that American attitude towards French policy and towards the Genoa Conference is neither material nor mysterious. On that basis of interpretation one commentator contends that his country is to blame because she possesses no political horizon, no generosity and no confidence in the future—in spite of the fact that "we now pass for an honest race of people." In other words this is a belated admission that France has incurred a good deal of Anglo-Saxon impatience because she has interjected nothing but negative policies into international developments from which she should have been quick to grasp all the goodwill and benefits that were hers for the taking. Even yet she may cure the trouble by taking a fearless lead in a democratic move at Genoa.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There seems to be a suggestion that Sunday closing and observance of the Lord's Day Act should be regulated by a display of common sense. That would assuredly be the desire of a large majority of the people of this community.

Ignatius T. Lincoln has bobbed up again and is now in Uncle Sam's keeping. Surely some plans must have gone wrong; this international trouble maker should have been in Paris as the inspiration to de Valera to urge the Congress of the Irish Race to start a new rising against the Treaty.

Speaking of conditions in Ireland it will be observed that the Ulster Government has recognized the Irish Free State and the Irish Free State has recognized the Northern Parliament as a legal and responsible institution. These demonstrations of friendliness between the leaders of the North and South ought to make the Carsonites sit up and rub their eyes in wonderment.

The Giornale d'Italia, of Rome, comments upon the United States' hesitancy to take part in the Genoa Conference and says: "In the opinion of America it is still too early to talk of European reconstruction. It is as though the doctor said it would be premature for him to attend an invalid until the illness had reached a crisis." But this continent has witnessed so many attacks of the European complaint and has no intention of doing anything that would cause the malady to spread to this side of the Atlantic while the sick ward refuses fumigation.

BANK CUTS CITY'S LOAN BY ONE-THIRD

The Mayor's announcement that he was being forced to abandon his objections to improvement taxation makes it clear that the move towards a levy on improvements here will get under way shortly. A number of members of the City Council favor an improvement tax but it had been thought that this plan would encounter stern opposition from the Mayor.

"I am opposed to taxes on improvements in principle but I cannot help feeling that principles are not worth as much under present conditions as they would be in ordinary circumstances," the Mayor stated this morning. "We are in a serious financial situation, and have got to have more revenue. Those are the facts and must be faced. Just as during the war extreme measures had to be taken, sometimes in violation of various ideas and principles, so we may be forced to save our finances through drastic means."

Against Distress Process.

The Mayor announced that he was opposed to the proposal that taxes should be collected as private debts through the ordinary process of the law. Under this system, which is enforced in a number of cities on this Continent, if a man refuses to pay taxes on his land the Corporation takes his other possessions, if necessary by distress. Such a system, the Mayor declared, was grossly unjust and unfair and would involve huge court expenses.

His Worship emphasized the necessity of paring annual civic estimates "to the bone" and stated that he had written to the School Board asking for an early conference on financial questions. At this conference he will describe the City's financial troubles and ask the Trustees to keep their estimates down to the lowest possible figures.

The Annual Loan By-Law authorizing the loan of $500,000, which the Bank of Montreal has agreed to lend to the city, will be passed by the City Council Monday night.

'VARSITY PLANS TRACK CONTESTS

Vancouver, Jan. 28.—At a meeting of the Track Club of the University of British Columbia this week it was decided to hold the Arts '20 relay race from the future University site at Point Grey to the present site as in the past, instead of on the track as had been proposed. The race will be an inter-class event and as usual will arouse wide interest and keen competition. The race will take place March 1 and will be one of a number of events from the results of which the champion class will be chosen. Other inter-class sports, such as the annual track meet, rugby, tug-of-war and baseball will also count for the championship. Full particulars of these events will be announced soon.

Miss G. MacKinnon won the first prize in the women's public speaking contest the other day. She spoke as a candidate for the Provincial Legislature in the North Okanagan district. The finals of the men's oratorical contest will be held February 11.

HEADS THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Centre Dummer, Ont., writes:—"My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

Firm Says Reports Do It Great Harm

Premier Oliver to-day made public the letter from Gillespie, Hart & Todd, Ltd., dealing with statements made in letters being circulated for the purpose of injuring the Government. The letter from the firm is signed by E. D. Todd, director.

In the letter to the Premier Mr. Todd says:

"As we understand that numerous reports and circulars are being spread throughout this Province accusing our firm of writing practically all insurance required by your Government, we wish to take this opportunity to say that our firm has not accepted any insurance from your Government other than that which we have received by public tender, except some registered mail insurance where our quotations were accepted by the Treasury Department as being the lowest.

"We are ready at any time to throw our books open for an investigation and to prove that what we say is the truth. We feel that these reports and circulars are doing our firm a great injustice, and make it very difficult to secure business.

"We think it only fair that the public should know what is going on between us, and more so when our Mr. Hart is one of your Cabinet Ministers, and we are, therefore, going to ask you to make a public announcement of the contents of this letter.

"These same remarks apply to any bond transactions with your Government that this firm has participated in."

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

WHY THE ROSE IS SWEET

The fairies say that once the beautiful rose did not have any fragrance as it has now, but because of a sweet and kindly act one of them did long, long ago the fairies gave to the roses their fragrance that now all the other flowers envy.

Long, long ago there grew in a garden beside a lake a beautiful rose. Its petals were not quite open when one night a party of dainty fairies was flitting about and one of them slipped inside the half-opened rose and went to sleep.

So soft and silky were the petals that the little fairy slept on and on until when at last she did open her eyes and peeped out into the garden not one of her sisters could she see.

And this was not all, for around the garden were the mischevious goblins capering about and the little fairy knew what would happen if they caught her alone, for the goblins never missed a chance to torment and bother the fairies.

When they were with their queen or there were many of them together the fun-loving goblins did not play so many bad pranks upon them; but let one of their number be found alone and the little goblins made it very uncomfortable for the tiny fairy.

"Oh, dear, what shall I do?" sighed the little Fairy, snuggling back into the heart of the rose. Then she began to cry, which awoke the sleeping rose.

"What is the matter?" asked the Rose. "I was having a beautiful dream about a sweet fairy who had come to give fragrance to me that I might fill the garden with sweet perfume and now I wake up to find my dream is not true; but instead my fairy is sad."

"I am sorry I disturbed your nice dream, dear Rose," whispered the little Fairy. "But I cannot help but cry. I slipped in here and went to sleep and my sisters have all gone and left me, and if I go out and try to find them the goblins will catch me and I do not know what will happen to me."

"Where do you live?" asked the Rose.

"On the other side of the lake in the dell," replied the Fairy, "and I can never get home before sunrise, for if I try to run around the lake, even if the goblins did not catch me, I should be late and my sisters will tell the queen I am lost and make her very unhappy."

"Dry your pretty eyes, little Fairy," said the Rose. "I think I can help you, for I know you fairies cannot fly across water and you cannot touch it with your little feet, for it is a law of Fairyland that no fairy can touch the water.

"My petals are ready to open and you shall have one of them for a boat to sail across the lake to your home, and, though I may lose some of my beauty, which is my only charm, I shall be happy in knowing I have done a kindness."

Then the early morning breeze sent the rose boat sailing away and before the sun rose little fairy was safe at home with her sisters and the Queen, to whom she told her wonderful advanture.

"She shall be fragrant for that sweet act," said the Queen, when the little fairy had finished her story. "To-night we will all go to the garden and make her dream come true and from now on Rose shall make a perfume that no other flower can match."

WOMAN GOLFER IN KNICKERBOCKERS

Prairie Visitor Introduces New and Startling Fashion at Oak Bay

Doughty ex-Colonels busily engaged in pursuing the royal and ancient game of golf at the Oak Bay golf course a few days ago found their attention diverted from the "pill" by a vision which caused them to rub their eyes and hastily readjust their glasses in an effort to convince themselves that they were wide-awake and that their eyesight was not playing them tricks. They looked again and found that their first surmise was right. Another stronghold of man had fallen before the onslaught of the modern woman! A female golfer had had the temerity to appear in a golf suit whose nether garment can only be described in one word—knickerbockers.

In the words of the movie world, a sensation was registered, as the daring neophyte of a new fashion took her stance, swung and followed through with an ease and grace which made other women golfers realize the impediment to their game in the shape of hampering skirts. Mere males on the course could only waver between admiration and amazement as the fair Winnipegger made her way around the course, apparently oblivious, or perhaps hardened by custom, to the frank stares which greeted her appearance.

Memories were recalled of the days when the so-called rational dress made its appearance in England, synchronizing with the advent of the New Woman and the bicycle. The new golfing outfit is no novelty in the East and in the United States, where many women have adopted the garb, claiming that it gives greater freedom of movement in the popular outdoor game. But as far as can be ascertained the fair prairie visitor is the first to introduce the knee-breeches to this city.

The costume consists of a smart coat made on sports lines with a fur-trimmed collar. The pants are of knee-length and somewhat baggy, reminiscent of those worn by the "super-golfer" male devotee.

An attempt was made by a leading local firm some months ago to introduce the new garment, but although attractive suits were displayed in the windows for some time, either the style did not appeal to feminine Victorians or they lacked the necessary courage to undertake the personal introduction of the new fashion. One can only hope that imitators of the prairie lady golfer will be confined to the ranks of the young and shapely!

VETERANS HOLD ENJOYABLE SOCIAL

Many Present at Initial Function of Amalgamated Veterans

Under the able direction of the Ladies' Auxiliary, the first social to be held by the Amalgamated Veterans' Association was staged last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, with Major F. B. Edwards in the chair. An exceptionally large and genial concourse of members and friends of the Veterans attended to make the affair a success.

An excellent concert, with a novel programme, followed by dancing and cards for the non-dancers, completed the entertainment of the evening. Refreshments were served, while an excellent orchestra was in attendance. Among the many artists assisting in the entertainment were Mrs. Edwards, the Misses Dooley, Cameron and Thorpe, with Messrs. Potter, Impett, McCloy, Graham, McCallum, Barker and Miller. Mr. Fletcher acted as accompanist.

In such a well varied programme, which was remarkable for the talent displayed it would be difficult to single out any particular items. The comic turns given by Mr. Impett in his favorite "Signora" with encore, the impersonations of Mr. McCloy as a French clown suddenly metamorphized in an encore to a Scotsman of the Lauder type and J. McCallum in his rendering of "Man" and as a credulous sailor were features of a most delightful evening.

The graceful dancing, in Georgian costume, of a Minuet by the Misses Thorpe was the signal for prolonged applause.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Artists and the members of the Ladies Auxiliary for their work in providing for the evening's entertainment with thanks also to the merchants who had so ably assisted in donating foodstuffs was put to the meeting, and carried.

A short interval for refreshments was followed by a dance which lasted till 1.30 a. m., the members of the Great War Veterans Band providing a fine programme of dance music.

DISTINGUISHED PATRONS FOR VICTORIA COLLEGE BALL NEXT MONTH

Students of the Victoria College are devoting much attention to the preparations for the annual ball to be held at the Alexandra ballroom on February 17. LADIES' AID "AT HOME."

The Ladies' Aid of Hampshire Road Methodist Church held an "at home" yesterday afternoon in the church. Mrs. T. F. Oliver, the president, welcomed the guests on behalf of the society, after which solos were rendered by Mrs. Whidden and Mrs. Todd; piano solo by Mrs. Yeo, and a recitation by Mrs. Todd. Those present then entered with zeal into a contest, the winners of the first prize being Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Graham, the consolation going to Mrs. Lovett and Briggs. Refreshments were served from daintily arranged tables, tea being poured by Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Hibberson. Conveners for the afternoon were Mrs. Gurney for refreshments and Mrs. Bowers for the programme.

Victorian Order of Nurses—The annual meeting of the V.O.N. will take place on Tuesday next, at 3 o'clock, at 1645 Rockland Avenue. All interested in the work are asked to attend. The regular monthly meeting of the Board will be held at 2.30 on the same day.

ROYAL VICTORIA

How a society bud is haunted by the belief that she has killed a man, and the latter's sudden reappearance and strange power over the girl, form the nucleus of some unusual situations in the Louis B. Mayer-First National attraction, "The Invisible Fear," which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time to-day. Anita Stewart, in the star role, is not seen as just an ordinary murderess. She commits the act of violence in self-defense, but nevertheless is tortured by recollections because circumstances prevent her unburdening her mind without laying herself open to vicious accusation.

The spectator is let in on enough of the real facts of the case to sway his entire attention to the solution of the mystery caused by the "victim's" reappearance and weird actions.

In his treatment of Madge Tyrone's scenario, Director Edwin Carewe has succeeded in keeping up the suspense of the plot until the big climax at the end.

Replete with sensational melodramatic touches and surprising twists, the story develops smoothly and steadily towards a strong climax. The action is quick and well-balanced and there is something happening all of the time. "The Invisible Fear" is purely an entertainment picture and succeeds admirably in holding the attention of the spectator with clean comedy hits, dramatic situations, a good romantic strain and plenty of thrills.

A number of screen favorites are listed in the cast supporting Anita Stewart, including Walter McGrail Alan Forrest, Ogden Crane, Estelle Evans, Hamilton Morse and others.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Royal—"The Invisible Fear."
Dominion—"Boomerang Bill."
Capitol—"The Bride's Play."
Variety—"The Honor of the Mounted."
Columbia—"Cold Steel."

The story is by Hampton Del Ruth. Robert B. Kurrle, A.S.C., contributes his share to the production's excellence in beautiful photography.

CAPITOL

Many gorgeous scenes render "The Bride's Play," a new Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture, starring Marion Davies, at the Capitol Theatre last night, a delight to the big audience that gave it a cordial welcome. Miss Davies, who has a dual role of considerable dramatic strength, loses none of her charm, grace or beauty of feature in changing from a brunette in the early part of the story to a blonde in the later scenes. Wyndham Standing plays opposite Miss Davies and heads a capable supporting company.

DOMINION

Five cameras, fifty mechanics and several hundred extras were used in taking scenes for "Boomerang Bill," a Paramount picture featuring Lionel Barrymore, at the Manhattan Casino in New York City. "Boomerang Bill" will be shown at the Dominion Theatre for the last time to-night.

The story required the taking of scenes in a dance hall where Boomerang Bill has a fight and meets the girl with whom he subsequently falls in love. Instead of building a dance hall setting in the Cosmopolitan studio, the casino was leased so that there would be no sign of artificalty about the scene. Those supporting Mr. Barrymore are: Marguerite Marsh, Margaret Seddon, Frank Shannon and Matthew Betts.

COLUMBIA

Stirring episodes pile upon one another in "Cold Steel," at the Columbia Theatre to-day. Adapted to the screen by the skillful Monte Katterjohn, recalled especially for his memorable "The Flame of the Yukon," "Cold Steel" is crowded with just the sort of material for which Mr. Katterjohn is noted. A splendid story and an all-star cast are also provided in this picture.

SIR PHILIP GIBBS TO SPEAK HERE ON FEBRUARY 13

Sir Philip Gibbs, who is now on tour, has chosen for his lecture subject here: "The Chance for a World's Peace."

Having returned recently from a trip through the leading European countries, Sir Philip has obtained first hand information concerning the trend of international events. He became acquainted with the leaders of the political parties of each nation and, as a result, will tell the trend of world events.

He understands his subject and his audiences and has a personal magnetism which has brought him great popularity as a speaker. He belongs to a literary family, one of his brothers being Cosmo Hamilton, the novelist and dramatist. He has written many books among them. "Now It Can Be Told" and "More That Can Be Told," which have been equally successful.

Sir Philip will give his lecture on Monday, February 13, in the Pantages Theatre.

In commemoration of the birthday anniversary of Scotland's immortal poet, Robert Burns, the concert by the G. W. V. A. band to-morrow evening at the Capitol is in the nature of a national character. Several numbers endeared in the hearts of many here from Scotland, are included in the programme. Miss Isa Taylor, now filling an engagement at the Capitol, and Mrs. Georgina Watt are both contributing Scottish songs. Both these singers are appearing for the first time at these concerts. Miss Pearl Heyman met with flattering reception at the band's last year's Winter concerts. She will be heard in a new song called "In Lover's Garden," a particularly fine composition.

In the band numbers are included the "Reminiscences of Scotland," arranged by the celebrated bandmaster, Dan Godfrey. The overture, "Zampa," a request number, Schubert's "Moments Musical," and "A Summer Day in Norway." Noticed in the programme is an announcement of another community sing for the following Sunday evening when the second favorite hymn taken at a recent slip vote. BABY MOSS.

"Owes her robust health to Virol."

Cranfield,
50, St. Albans Road,
Moseley, Birmingham.
Gentlemen, Aug. 20, 1920.

Enclosed you will find photograph of my daughter at 17 months old. I think you will agree that she is a splendid testimony to the value of Virol as a body builder. From early days Virol has been added to her milk food, and I am quite sure that she owes her robust health to this addition.

I have many times recommended Virol and in every case there has been improvement in general health, rapid growth and easy assimilation of food.

Believe me to be,
Yours faithfully,
(Signed) GEO. MOSS.

Virol is used in large quantities in more than 2,500 Hospitals and Infant Clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk: it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

Hotham, commanding officer of the local division of the Boys' Naval Brigade returned thanks to the ladies of the Auxiliary for the presentation of a complete basketball equipment. CITY TRAINING INSTITUTE.

The City Training Institute for Sunday school workers which has been recently inaugurated by the Religious Education Council of the Victoria District held their first of a series of meetings on Monday, at the Y.W.C.A. The attendance surpassed the most optimistic expectations of the leaders and it was believed by many present that a change of quarters would be necessary to accommodate the classes. A small fee is being charged for registration, and 93 students and teachers were enrolled at the first meeting. The Executive with the assistance of the Y.W.C.A. officials are arranging for the next meeting on Monday, the 30th, in the same rooms at 6 p.m. If it is then found necessary to change the place of meeting, arrangements will be made accordingly. The lecture will commence promptly at 6.45 and the class will be dismissed at 7.45.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

MAIN STREET

THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT

By SINCLAIR LEWIS

She was humbled by his humility; she put away in her mind, to take out and worry over later, a speculation as to whether it was not she who was naive. She urged, "What if you do have to go back? Most of us do! We can't all be artists—myself, for instance. We have to darn socks and yet we're not content to think of nothing but socks and darning-cotton. I'd demand all I could get—whether I finally settled down to designing frocks or building temples or pressing pants. What if you do drop back? You'll have had the adventure. Don't be too meek toward life! Go! You're young, you're unmarried. Try everything! Don't listen to Nat Hicks and Sam Clark and be a 'steady young man'—in order to help them make money. You're still a blessed innocent. Go and play till the Good People capture you"

"But I don't just want to play. I want to make something beautiful God! And I don't know enough. Do you get it? Do you understand? Nobody else ever has! Do you understand?"

"Yes."

"And so—— But here's what bothers me: I like fabrics; dinky things like that; little drawings and elegant words. But look over there at those fields. Big! New! Don't it seem kind of a shame to leave this and go back to the East and Europe, and do what all those people have been doing so long? Being careful about words, when there's millions of bushels of wheat here! Reading this fellow Pater, when I've helped Dad to clear fields!"

"It's good to clear fields. But it's not for you. It's one of our favorite American myths that broad plains necessarily make broad minds, and high mountains make high purpose. I thought that myself, when I first came to the prairie. 'Big—new.' Oh, I don't want to deny the prairie future. It will be magnificent. But equally I'm hanged if I want to be bullied by it, go to war on behalf of Main Street, be bullied and bullied by the faith that the future is already here in the present, and that all of us must stay and worship wheat-stacks and insist that this is 'God's Country'—and never, of course, do anything original or gay-colored that would help to make that future! Anyway, you don't belong here. Sam Clark and Nat Hicks, that's what our big newness has produced. Go! Before it's too late, as it has been for—for some of us. Young man, go East and grow up with the revolution! Then perhaps you may come back and tell Sam and Nat and me what to do with the land we've been clearing—if we'll listen—if we don't lynch you first!"

He looked at her reverently. She could hear him saying, "I've always wanted to know a woman who would talk to me like that."

Her hearing was faulty. He was saying nothing of the sort. He was saying:

"Why aren't you happy with your husband?"

"I—you——'

"He doesn't care for the 'blessed innocent' part of you, does he!"

"Erik, you mustn't——"

"First you tell me to go and be free, and then you say that I 'mustn't'!"

"I know. But you mustn't—— You must be more impersonal!"

He glowered at her like a downy young owl. She wasn't sure but she thought that he muttered, "I'm damned if I will." She considered with wholesome fear the perils of meddling with other people's destinies, and she said timidly, "Hadn't we better start back now?"

He mused, "You're younger than I am. Your lips are for songs about rivers in the morning and lakes at twilight. I don't see how anybody could ever hurt you. . . . Yes. We better go."

He trudged beside her, his eyes averted. Hugh experimentally took his thumb. He looked down at the baby seriously. He burst out, "All right. I'll do it. I'll stay here one year. Save. Not spend so much money on clothes. And then I'll go East, to art-school. Work on the side—tailor shop, dressmaker's. I'll learn what I'm good for; designing clothes, stage-settings, illustrating or selling collars to fat men. All settled." He peered at her, unsmiling.

"Can you stand it here in town for a year?"

"With you to look at?"

"Please! I mean: Don't the people here think you're an odd bird? (They do me, I assure you!)"

"I don't know. I never notice much. Oh, they do kid me about not being in the army—especially the old warhorses, the old men that aren't going themselves. And this Bogart boy. And Mr. Hicks's son—he's a horrible brat. But probably he's licensed to say what he thinks about his father's hired man!"

"He's beastly!"

They were in town. They passed Aunt Bessie's house. Aunt Bessie and Mrs. Bogart were at the window, and Carol saw that they were staring so intently that they answered her wave only with the stiffly raised hands of automatons. In the next block Mrs. Dr. Westlake was gaping from her porch. Carol said with an embarrassed quaver:

"I want to run in and see Mrs. Westlake. I'll say good-by here."

She avoided his eyes.

Mrs. Westlake was affable. Carol felt that she was expected to explain; and while she was mentally asserting that she'd be hanged if she'd explain, she was explaining:

"Hugh captured that Valborg boy up the track. They became such good friends. And I talked to him for a while. I'd heard he was eccentric, but really, I found him quite intelligent. Crude, but he reads—reads almost the way Dr. Westlake does."

"That's fine. Why does he stick here in town? What's this I hear about his being interested in Myrtle Cass?"

"I don't know. Is he? I'm sure he isn't. He said he was quite lonely! Besides, Myrtle is a babe in arms!"

"Twenty-one if she's a day!"

"Well—— Is the doctor going to do any hunting this Fall?"

(To Be Continued).

A WOMAN IN THE CASE

One of the spectators at a football match had had his pocket picked. As the thief was boiting, he collared him and escorted him to a policeman.

"You say this man stole your watch," said the policeman. "What distinguishing feature was there about the watch?"

"It contained my sweetheart's photograph," replied the man.

"Ah, I see!" replied the Bobby. "A woman in the case."

SHIPPING NEWS FROM DAY TO DAY

NEW ATHENIA IS LAUNCHED

Fine Anchor-Donaldson Liner Will Enter Canadian Service in June

The new Anchor-Donaldson liner Athenia was launched on the Clyde to-day, according to cable advices reaching C. A. Whitelock, British Columbia manager for the Cunard Line.

The Athenia is 538 feet long with a beam of 65 feet and a gross tonnage of 14,000 tons.

The new ship will ply between Montreal and Glasgow, and will bear the name of the Anchor-Donaldson boat which was lost during the war.

Maiden Trip in June.

The Athenia will be ready to make her maiden trip from Glasgow to Montreal in June, and is scheduled to sail from Montreal on her first voyage June 23, and will operate in the Glasgow service thereafter.

The vessel will have accommodation for 518 cabin and 1,140 third class passengers. She is an oil burner and, like all other oil burners of the latest type, will have only one funnel.

With the opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence and commencing with the company's sailing May 5, the time of departure from Montreal by Anchor-Donaldson liners will be at daybreak.

BLUE STAR LINE TO PACIFIC COAST

SS. Gothic Star Inaugurates Another British Service Via Panama

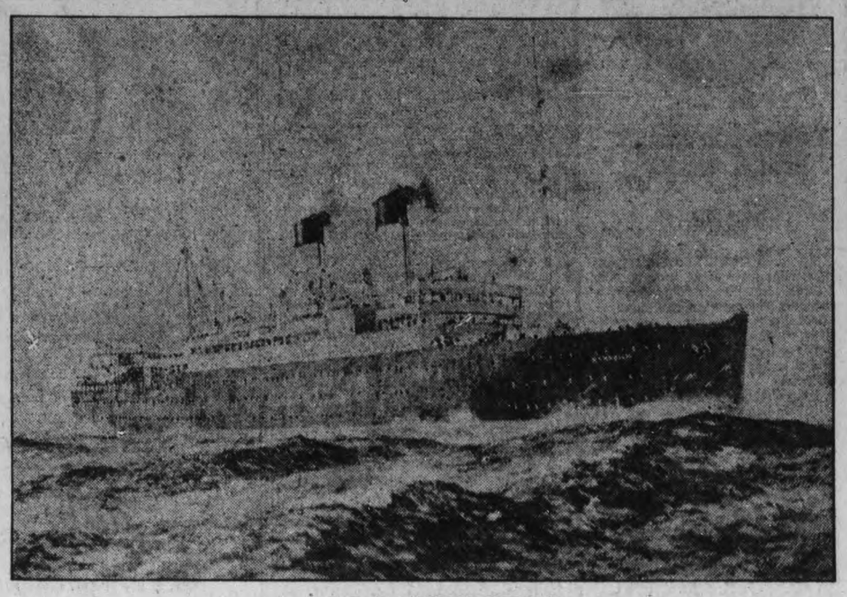

Seattle, Jan. 28.—On January 20 the Blue Star Line's steamship Gothic Star sailed from Glasgow for Seattle and yesterday it became known definitely here that this big British steamship concern had decided to enter into the transportation business between the Pacific Coast and North Europe ports.

E. A. Gilbert, representing the Blue Star Line, has been on the Pacific Coast for several weeks and yesterday he completed arrangements whereby the Pacific Steamship Company would be the Pacific Coast representatives of the new service.

The Blue Start interests comprise one of the largest of British steamship corporations and among its vessels are twenty ships equipped with refrigerator space, and it is the purpose of the concern to utilize this type of ship in the service to this Coast, thus following the lead set by the Holland American Line and its affiliation, the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. The two latter services with the Blue Star, the United American Line, the Furness Withy Company and the newly re-established Blue Funnel service, will give the Pacific Coast six services to North Europe.

The Gothic Star is expected to reach Seattle late in February, as she will make the customary Pacific Coast ports of call en route here, London, Liverpool and Glasgow will be the regular European ports of call, with others as cargo is listed.

MEMNON IS TAKING SPRUCE TO GLASGOW

McElroy Lumber Co. Shipping 50,000 Feet of Dressed Lumber

Five thousand feet of dressed spruce lumber is being shipped aboard the Blue Funnel Line freighter Memnon, Capt. H. E. Beale, at the Outer Docks here for delivery in the United Kingdom.

The shipment is being forwarded by the McElroy Lumber Company, Ltd., and is consigned to F. A. Lightbody, Glasgow. There has been a noticable improvement in the lumber export business from Victoria recently, this being the second shipment of its kind sent out by the McElroy Lumber Company, and Col. James Lightbody, D. S. O., manager of the concern, says that other large shipments will be shipped to the United Kingdom in the future. The shipment going out by the Memnon to Glasgow was sawn by the Cameron Lumber Company.

Col. Lightbody maintains that more lumber should be exported from Victoria, and he is a strong advocate for better shipping facilities at this port.

DAMAGED PLATES TORN FROM BARGE

Repairs to Canadian Pacific Craft Will Be Completed in Three Weeks

Practically all the damaged plates have been torn out of the Canadian Pacific barge No. 8 at the plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot, Ltd., and the work of reconstructing the bottom of the craft, recently salved from the reefs of Porlier Pass, will be started early next week. The work is going along satisfactorily, it was stated to-day at the plant, and it is hoped to have the barge completely repaired within three weeks.

The barge occupied the marine ways at the Bay Street plant.

Newington at Wharf.

The Department of Marine steamship Negington is lying alongside the wharf in the Upper Harbor awaiting her turn on the ways. She is to have a new tail shaft and propeller fitted. The new castings are about ready. Considerable other work has to be done on the Newington before she returns to Prince Rupert.

CARPENTERS' WAGES.

To the Editor:—Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to refute several incorrect statements, made in Friday's Times by T. Edwards regarding carpenters' wages? I do not know whether our friend is trying to mislead the public or whether he is ignorant of the wage scale of the various trades. He states that carpenters' wages are $6.50 per day, and that the so-called Builders' Exchange have reduced the rate to $5 (by the way The Victoria Builders' Exchange, Ltd., is incorporated).

The highest standard wage ever recognized by the Victoria Builders' Exchange, Ltd., was $6 per day, although the Carpenters' Union tried to establish the rate at $6.60. About two years ago a delegation of the union and a delegation of the Builders' Exchange appeared before the Minister of Labor at the Parliament Buildings to decide which was the standard wage for carpenters, $6.60 or $6. The question was decided by the Minister, that the standard wage of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, Ltd., $6 per day, was the correct one, and entered that decision in the books of the Government. I vouch for this as I was one of that committee. Mr. Edwards states that there is too much difference in the cut of plumbers and carpenters, and that plumbers were only cut 40 cents per day, and that they should not receive a higher scale than carpenters. He is again incorrect, as plumbers were cut from $7.20 to $6. The plumbers receive a higher rate as the carpenters have more steady employment. I think this gentleman very unreasonable, and not at all just in what he designates as fair play when he claims that the carpenters (his term "the poor unfortunates") "only" receive $1 a day more than the laborers.

A DIRECTOR OF THE VICTORIA BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.

CO-OPERATIVE ENTERPRISES.

To the Editor,—Following a discussion on Co-operation at the Amalgamated Veterans' Association, and the policy which that body is outlining to benefit the community in general by the institution of a peoples' forum to exchange ideas, I would like to draw attention to the vista of prosperity which might unfold before our eyes with the assistance of the education, knowledge and understanding that such an institution might give. Employment has been created for one hundred and fifty-seven men by the employment committee of that organization; and to their credit be it said, many of them are business men out of employment themselves and if that can be accomplished by men without funds; what might not be accomplished by a whole community earning dollars and using them for their own benefit, putting them to work right here where every dollar will reproduce itself instead of loaning it out at six per cent. to develop other countries.

Let the present financial structures stand as they are, and the people form corporations of their own where the profits earned are distributed among shareholders in proportion to their holdings, and our annual relief funds and unemployment problems will diminish until they are consigned to the limbo of the past where all such institutions and conditions belong.

A comparison, for instance, might be given between investing $900 on Saanich Peninsula exploiting our own natural wealth and $900 invested in a South American bond yielding 6 per cent. The $900 will command a man's service in Victoria at $3 per day for 300 days, who will go into the woods and cut 300 cords of wood on an average of $4.00 per cord, and 300 cords are worth $1,200 in the open market,—a profit of $300 and employment given to a local man who supports a family. The interest of your South American bond is $54 and it has employed none of your neighbors. It has probably purchased 30 head of cattle which have produced 25 calves for the enterprising owner of a hacienda in the Argentine, while you receive but $54.

The above instances are typical of the methods, and the difference between Germany and France. Germany developed a co-operative spirit and put her money directly into her industries, and as a result threatened to dominate the whole world with her commerce. France was a nation who invested in bonds, giving other people the use of their capital, and therefore stood still.

The working man or woman who puts $100 directly into an industrial corporation is the capitalist to that amount and when they learn the difference between using their own money to finance their own enterprises and reap a profit of whatever that money produces, and loaning it out at a low stipulated rate of interest for some person to use for them, they will find that they have the key to a problem which people have tried to solve by ruinous strikes and other means for ages.

CAST-OFF CLOTHING.

To the Editor:—All kinds of wearing apparel is badly needed at the present time by persons unable to purchase same. The few dollars earned on relief work for the city is insufficient in many instances to buy the necessary amount of food, and according to the authorities, money so earned, is to be used only for that purpose. The Victoria and District Unemployed Council beg to call the attention of the generous public to the conduct of supposedly organizations who solicit donations for the poor and instead of giving them to the needy charge unreasonable prices. A hearty response to this appeal will be of benefit to the city.

THE CANTEEN FUND

To the Editor:—In your editorial in the issue of your paper of January 25, under the heading of "The Canteen Fund" you agree with many of the points raised in my previous letter and had it not been for a section of your latter editorial I would have been content to let the matter rest at that, bu when you sate that "there is no historical precedent and there is little liklihood of one being established in his day," then Mr. Editor we get down to "brass tacks."

Why should such a matter as the rehabilitation of the returned men need a precedent? There was no precedent for a hundred and one things that came to be taken as a matter of course during the war.

I have many times wondered, since my return from overseas, why the same power of oratory of the pulpit, or the printed power of the press that was used so freely for the purpose of recruiting when the nation was in need, is not now raised in general condemnation of the Government in their lack of sympathy and general bone headedness in dealing with this great problem.

That the partially disabled man should be especially looked after none of us deny, but, precedent or no, this is work solely for the Government and I still maintain that money that belongs equally to all veterans should not be used for one section only, but should be used for the benefit of all.

When an obstacle of exceptional difficulty had to be overcome in the fighting in France and Flanders I am afraid that it would have boded ill for the Allies had Marshall Foch dug back into the history of Napoleon to find out what he had done under similar circumstances, and the same applies to the case in point. Create the precedent now, so that we will never have to say again that "no precedent exists."

Unfortunately the Veterans themselves are in not position to bring all these things home to the Government.

Cliques and small minorities of self-seeking political heelers manage to keep them a much dis-united body and it is to be hoped that the very near future will see them united in one common mass working for the greater good to the greater number.

It is not too late yet.

D. FYVIE.

LINEHAM'S PROPOSALS

To the Editor:—Alderman Lineham is to be commended for stating the true facts in regard to the civic finance, we are glad we have a man with backbone who is trying to do things in the way of making the revenue meet the expenses of running our city. It seems certain that if there is nothing done along the lines that he is advocating, there will be more property reverting to the city and more people ruined.

J. CREED.

THE NORTH COUNTRY.

To the Editor,—An acquaintance in England writes me to know if Mr. Pattullo's land settlement in Northern B. C. is a rosy one. He wants to know if the thermometer goes below zero in Winter, as some one has told him it occasionally touches 60 below, that there are only six hours of daylight in December, that there are no towns or villages even, for hundreds of miles, and then he asks: "Can I go to the United States if I don't like it?" He says people over there are suspicious, and say, if it is so good, why don't Canadians go there themselves if the land is so cheap. He adds "Is the climate like England or where you are at Vancouver Island?" The Government might through the press inform the party, for I have never been North, and oranges may grow there for aught I know, or lemons perhaps.

Opposes Money Waste.—Mrs. G. Sutton, of Battleford Avenue, Saanich, who is rumored to be entering the field for school trustee at the coming election, this morning made the following statement to The Times: "Public money wasted by this election, thrust upon the people in place of an acclamation formality, should be heartily resented by the voters. I regret to disappoint the many friends who have urged me to run for School Trustee. With the Reeveship to be fought over despite the wish of the people, there would be very little additional expense incurred should I enter the contest, but I will not by a five cent piece aid in lifting the responsibility from the shoulders now incurring the burden of the public's anger."

His Rheumatism Gone He Rejoices

Mr. Mike Karaim Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered For Two Years Gives the Reason Why He Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Stoney Lake, Sask., Jan. 27.—(Special).—"I have suffered for two years from rheumatism but I am glad to tell you I am well again." In these words Mr. Mike Karaim, a respected resident of this place gives the reason why he recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to all his friends.

"I spent a lot of money on other medicines before I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Kariam continued. "I only used two boxes of them and now I feel fine."

Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. The natural way to treat it is to strengthen the kidneys so they will do their full work and strain all the uric acid out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills make strong healthy kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills have been in use in Canada for more than a quarter of a century. They have grown in popularity year by year because of the work they have done.

Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills. (Advt.)

Damage Action Dismissed:—The action of Merkley versus Raper, a damage action for $5,000 claimed for injuries alleged to have been received when the plaintiff was struck by a motor car of the defendant in March 1919, was dismissed at its termination in the Supreme Court on Friday, before Mr. Justice Gregory. H. B. Robertson appeared for the plaintiff, with H. A. Maclean, K. C., for the defendant. Mr. Justice Gregory held that there had not been negligence on the part of the defendant company. The suit followed an accident in which the plaintiff was knocked down as he was crossing the corner of Government Street and Hillside Avenue, in March, 1919. The defence held that the accident had not resulted from any negligence on the part of the driver of the defendant company's car. The action was dismissed.

JUBILEE HOSPITAL BILL COLLECTIONS TO BE SPEEDED UP

Finance Committee Overhauling System; Confer on Hospital Costs

Collection of bills for treatment at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital will be speeded up by plans decided upon at a conference between the civic Finance Committee and the Hospital Directors yesterday.

"The system of collecting bills from now on will be greatly simplified," Alderman E. S. Woodward, chairman of the Finance Committee, announced to-day. "We think, as a result, considerable sums of money will be saved for the city."

Alderman Woodward stated that the Finance Committee had commenced to carry out a thorough overhaul of the city's financial methods with a view to cutting down expenses and increasing efficiency.

Alderman Woodward conferred with Mayor Marchant to-day on hospital finances. He explained that, while the City Council had to pay over to the Hospital Board half its share of provincial liquor profits, this would not reduce the Council's hospital expenses. "We understood before that the liquor money which we handed over to the Hospital Board would reduce our other contributions to hospital costs," Alderman Woodward explained. "Now we find that we are expected to give this money in addition to ordinary contributions."

Alderman Woodward informed the Mayor that unless the Council proceeded to pay its share of the cost of maintaining the local venereal disease clinic a considerable part of this institution's work would have to stop. The city has refused to make contributions to the payment of this clinic's expenses in the past.

OPPOSE BLUE SUNDAY

Retail Section of Chamber of Commerce Expresses Views.

Extreme enforcements of the Lord's Day Act in Victoria would be the worst kind of an advertisement for the city and would discourage to a very great extent the influx of tourist, the retail section of the Chamber of Commerce decided at a meeting held yesterday when resolutions were passed opposing the too drastic application of Blue Sunday laws.

The committee recommends to the directors the formation of a community chest fund, such as already established in Winnipeg, Seattle and other cities and which is for the purposes of creating a channel through which deserving charity movements may be provided for and administered, and thus do away with fraudulent schemes.

Kirkham Staff Dance.—The second annual dance of the staff of H. O. Kirkham will be held at the Alexandra ballroom Tuesday evening, February 7. The committee in charge has done everything possible to make this affair a big success. The tickets have been placed on sale and can be had from any member of the staff at the Fort Street store, or the People's Grocerteria, Yates Street. The number of these has been limited to three hundred and they are selling rapidly, so anyone intending to go will do well to get these in good time, as admission will be by ticket only. Professor Heaton's orchestra will render all the latest "dance hits." Banquet supper will be served and the catering is in the hands of Messrs. Tighe & Wheeler.

FRIGHTENED!

'Every morning I woke up, I felt that something terrible was going to happen."

Vrites Mrs. M. and she goes on to say I wonder if any other woman ever had such fits of depression as I had for over a year. I was so utterly despondent that if it had not been for my children, I believe I would have put an end to my life. Every day and every night was a nightmare. I dreaded going to bed because I lay awake most of the night. When I did sleep, I had the most dreadful dreams. I couldn't eat. I was completely run down—nothing interested me, nothing appealed to me. I consulted several doctors. They prescribed different remedies to build me up but these preparations didn't do me any good. Doctors told me I had a nervous breakdown. I was tired all the time. I felt every day that my strength was gradually leaving me. The least little exertion left me thoroughly tired out. I knew I was gradually wasting away. I felt I was going to die and I was so thoroughly miserable that I did not care whether I lived or not. And then I heard about Carnol and what a fine tonic it was. At first I refused to take it as I was sure it wouldn't do me any good. Finally I did try it with the most wonderful results. I am well and happy every minute of the day now. I eat heartily and sleep soundly. My friends won't believe that Carnol alone has done this for me. I am never despondent now and every day is a day of joy. What Carnol has done for me it will do for you."

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money. 2-122

NOT IN POLITICS AS ORGANIZATION

Committee Appointed by the United Farmers of B. C.

Vancouver, Jan. 28.—As an organization, the United Farmers of British Columbia will not enter the political arena, it was decided at the concluding session of the annual convention here late yesterday afternoon. It was laid down that any political movement must start with locals and move upward, and a committee of fifteen was elected by the convention to devise rules and regulations for Parliament action and act as headquarters for the receipt of funds and the conducting of an educative campaign. This committee will not be responsible to the organization.

After considerable debate it was decided that the United Farmers of British Columbia should affiliate with the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

Resolution.

Clauses of the resolution on politics read:

"That the duties of the committee will be given to devise rules and regulations for the organization of political conventions, and to serve as the general headquarters for political effort throughout the Province on behalf of the farmers' action alone or in conjunction with other bodies, including locals of this association which may decide to co-operate with this committee, provided that in such case such locals may think fit to raise the funds they require for the purpose and shall keep such funds separate and apart from the funds of the organization.

"Upon its appointment the committee will not be subject to the rules and regulations of this association, and will be responsible only to the bodies, locals and persons whose interests it purposes to represent."

President.

J. L. Pridham, Victoria, was elected president for the coming year.

Nelson was chosen as next year's meeting place.

FRIENDLY SOCCER TEAMS.

London, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press)—Friendly games played between English soccer teams to-day resulted in Chelsea defeating Everton by 3-0, and in the Corinthians beating Derby County by 7-2.

Two changes were registered on the retail market this morning. A wider range in the price of potatoes was secured, the price varying from $1.75 to $2.10. Oranges of the marmalade variety the other products to secure a change, were quoted at a range price of 35c to 60c. There is no fluctuation in the top price of this fruit and the quotation is expected to remain stationary, as the oranges are of the small variety. DEADLOCK IN BUILDING TRADES IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A deadlock has occurred in the building trades of the United Kingdom as a result of the refusal of the operatives to accept a proposal of the employers that the working hours per week for the Summer should be increased from 44 to 50 and those for the winter to 41½.

The proposal was rejected by a ballot of 50,000 to 35,000.

GIRL KILLED BY TRAIN IN QUEBEC TOWN

Farnham, Que., Jan. 28.—Anne Beaudro, 16-year-old daughter of Theodore Beaudro, a Canadian Pacific Railway engineer, was instantly killed here this morning as a result of being run down by the Canadian Pacific Railway Halifax train. Her father, who was at work on a freight engine, was the first to reach the spot after the accident.

PRICES FIRM FOR SHORT SESSION

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

New York, Jan. 28.—The market had somewhat of a strong appearance in spots, due principally to pool activity in certain departments of the list. The shipping shares were conspicuous in connection with the foregoing. Low priced oils displayed considerable buoyancy on the upside. In other sections of the list there was some short covering in speculative issues, probably representative of week-end evening-up transactions. It does not seem as though the general list has as yet fully digested the heavy profit-taking sales which have been in evidence since the culmination of the rise in the closing days of last week.

NEW RULING FOR IMPORTED EGGS IS URGED

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—(Canadian Press)—Importations of Chinese eggs will be brought to the notice of the Minister of Agriculture this afternoon by a delegation representing the Ottawa Poultry Association, the Eastern Ontario Poultry Association, the Ottawa Retail Grocers' Association and the Quebec Poultry Association. The delegation will ask that regulations be adopted requiring that the containers of all imported eggs be marked with the country of origin and that eggs so imported shall not be mixed with the home product.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—The fire losses in Ontario, as totalled for 1921 by the Fire Marshal, show an increase over the previous year of more than $2,000,000 in the losses on insured property and a decrease of $300,000 in losses on uninsured property.

The number of fires was 3,698, an increase of 392. The total of losses was $13,819,953, as against $11,771,718 in 1920.

STILL EXPLODED AND WAS CAUSE OF MAN'S DEATH

New York, Jan. 28.—The explosion of a still in the basement of a house in the Borough Park section of Brooklyn to-day set fire to the building and burned an unidentified man to death.

A CORNER IN SHIRTS

"My boy," said the minister, "do you know the meaning of energy and enterprise?"

"No, sir," answered Freddy. "I don't believe I do."

"Well, I'll tell you. One of the richest men in the world came to this city without a shirt to his back, and now he has millions to his name."

Freddy gazed at the clergyman in open-eyed amazement.

"Millions?" he asked. "Why, how many of them can he wear at a time?"

THE USUAL WAY

"Hallo, Fred! How did you get on in Scotland?"

"Oh, fine Jack! We had grand weather all the time. By the by do you know, I heard a funny thing when I was there."

"Indeed?" said Jack. "What was it?"

"Well, they told me that they didn't hang a man with a wooden leg in Scotland."

"That's queer," said Jack. "How's that?"

"Oh, they hang 'em with a rope as a rule," was the reply.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, Jan. 28.—Reports of liberal buying by export houses were the main feuatures in an exceptionally active wheat market here to-day. Prices worked within a range of 2 cents during the session and closed with a gain of 1⅞ cents for both May and July futures.

Future coarse grains also shared in the advance, with flax outstanding with a gain at the close of nearly four cents. The demand for cash wheat was not so keen as for futures. A fair inquiry existed for cash oats and barley but offerings were not heavy.

ARGENTINE WHEAT SENSATIONALLY HIGHER

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Wheat—An increase in the volume of outside investment buying to-day encouraged local bullish endeavors and prices advanced rapidly under the stimulus of news which contradicted the principal argument of those who had entertained bearish ideas. This was in the form of a seven cent advance in Argentine prices. The gain was due almost entirely to higher exchange rates but the cause was of no consequence as far as this market is concerned, as it was very apparent that European interests were after wheat here. Liverpool again reflected a strong situation by advancing 1¾ pence, making the gain for the two days about 4 cents per bushel American money. Confirmation was lacking as to the amount of export business done, but there is little doubt that considerable wheat was worked and it is understood Greece will take close to 1,000,000 bushels early next week. A crop scare in the southwest is looming up as an important market factor, students of conditions claiming that the percentage of milling this year is going to be very large while in the drought districts, the crop is in bad shape. This uncertainty will undoubtedly attract the attention of European buyers and will add to already strong situation in the nearby position.

Corn—Although the improvement in corn in this market was less pronounced than in wheat it was sufficient nevertheless to create strength and bring about an advance of about one cent from yesterday's closing figures. Strange enough, there was less cash pressure in evidence on the fresh advance. Country offerings to arrive were reported light. It is only natural that the country holders seeing the market developing an advancing tendency should hesitate to sell his corn. There was no export business reported to-day but the European demand has not been satisfied.

Oats—Shipping interests were conspicuous on the buying side of futures, which added to the increase in outside investment buying, gave the market a strong tone. Receipts were estimated at eighty-five cars and the market was strong, with a good demand. Shipping sales reported were 50,000 bushels. Country offerings to arrive were light.

WHOLESALE MARKET REMAINS STEADY

Butter Prices Drop; Potatoes Fall Back

Dairy prices registered a reduction in price along wholesale row to-day, with the remainder of the variation presenting an upward trend in price. Salt Spring butter dropped five cents, followed later by a two cents decline in Grade 2 creamery. Retailers are picking Comox butter up at 43 cents, while eggs remained stationary to-day. Potatoes have receded into the background and are not likely to make a marked impression on the quotation list till some time in March. Onions jumped their old quotation and advanced a point at the wholesale house, half a dollar was the incline meted out on Okanagan per crate and per sack by wholesale dealers to-day. Two products were quoted at market price to-day, radishes being the first one, while the fruit section quoted bananas at market price. The quotations have been revised as follows:

A Deposit Account Creates Credit Standing

THE pages of our deposit ledger are more than a record of the deposits and withdrawals of our customers. From them we read something of the character and ability of the men and women who are our depositors.

Many a customer, through the introduction furnished by such an account, has created a credit standing with the Bank that has developed into one of his most valuable assets.

Form a connection with us now, and, later on, should you find yourself in need of assistance, you can come to us with your standing already largely established.

Mets Scented Snow Storm and Gave the Aries a Taste of It

Seattle Handed Victoria Their Worse Defeat of Season; Checking Was Too Close and Robbed Game of All Its Thrills; Mets Had Whole Team Back on Defence Every Time Aries Forwards Broke Away; Score 4-0.

Snowed under!

Peter Muldoon and his zebra-clad herd of puck-chasers got the jump on dear old Mr. Snow King last night and tossed a blanket of snow over the Aristocrats. The Mets' pilot must have jinkled the phone bell in the office of the old feller who dishes out the weather and found out that this place was due for a mantle of whiteness. If there's one thing that Pete likes to do it is to beat some one else to a job so he told his boys to put on their snow shoes and piled the drifts up deep around the Aristocrats' necks. And those tail-enders did the job up as nicely as a Christmas parcel and left the Arena on the long end of a 4-0 score.

It was the worse trimming the Aries have had to endure all season. It came at an unexpected moment. The fans had it all figured out that nothing but a landslide could stop the boys, but it proved that a snow storm could be just as effective. Those pesky Mets who can hit the bumpers for weeks at a stretch and then come riding back with all the jauntiness of a sergeant-major, got away with the bit in their teeth and there was no stopping them. Their vigorous back-checking spelled the down-fall of the Victoria forwards, and their hot spurt in the home-stretch, when they rung up three goals and were cheated out of a fourth by the gong, sent them merrily on their way. The win brought the Mets up to within two points of the leadership. If they beat Vancouver on Monday night they will be in a tie for the top deck with Victoria.

Rickey Was the Noise.

Roy Rickey the big black-haired youth on the Seattle defence was the real cause for the Mets' victory. For nearly a month "Rick" has been squatting on the bench while a loose cartilage in his knee re-adjusted itself. It was quite apparent last night that there wasn't a thing in the world wrong with Rickey's machinery and if all the repair shops made good on their jobs as the one which worked on Rickey there would be no cause for complaint.

Rickey was the big noise on the offensive. He made the opening for the first goal, which was enough to win the game and he scored the second unassisted to make sure that the Aries didn't come through with one of their spectacular finishes. Although Riley was credited with the fourth goal Rickey was the man who took the puck in on top of the net.

Too Big On Defensive.

On the defensive Rickey was too big altogether. His long reach constantly broke up the team-play of the Aries, snagging passes that, had they got by, would undoubtedly have brought scores. With Rickey back the Mets seemed to function better. Bobby Rowe was able to stay home in his own back-yard and tend to the chicken while Rickey did practically all the offensive work, which allowed his partner to conserve himself to ward off all attacks.

For a spectator's point of view the game was not a good one. There was not enough open work. The back-checking was very strenuous and the only place where the forwards seemed to be able to do anything was in centre ice. The moment they crossed either blue line they were checkd to death. The Seattle back-checking was particularly keen. As soon as their forwards shot they wheeled and rushed back to the defence to meet the Aries coming in. The result was that usually three Patrick boys found it necessary to bust between the whole Seattle team, inside its own blue line, a rank impossibility.

Aries Defence Alright.

The Aries' forwards were not back-checking as vigorously as the visitors but Meeking, Oatman and Clem Loughlin crowded the attackers off towards the boards and gave them few chances for real hot shots. Frederickson, Dunderdale and Halderson pulled many fine combination rushes but the puck seemed to get away from them when close in or else Rickey's long stick tipped the puck from their path.

The Aries best chance to win came in the second period. For five minutes they were all over the Mets. Meeking started the invasion by trying one of his thrilling centre ice rushes and while he got by well Rowe forced him to swerve off to the right and he could not get into position for a telling shot. But it was the spark which got the Aries going. They rushed vigorously and the defence men came up and helped the forwards to press the attack. Happy Holmes, however, had the "closed" sign on his net and passed up nothing. The Seattle goalie was responsible for a number of brilliant saves. Then the Mets steadied themselves, got their back-checking instruments in motion again and the Aries had to retire.

Nothing Much Flying.

There wasn't much flying in the first period. Both teams were checking close and the Mets had the best of what shooting there was. Seattle relied upon Morris's stick bringing them goals, for they continually whipped the puck over to the right, and Bernie tried hard to wing the coffin, and he went in all alone and scored. With less than five minutes to go and the game practically sewed up in Seattle's grips, Lester Patrick yanked Halderson and jumped into the fray himself. He pulled a couple of his old-time rushes well, but Holmes was not giving anything way.

Walker found himself alone in centre ice with no one to pass the puck to, so he gave it a ride up in the clouds. As it came down Lester tried to intercept it, and it flipped off and struck the net. Fowler having no chance to save. With the game but a minute to go, Hickey went on another pilgrimage and shot. Fowler saved, but Riley pounced on the rebound like a duck after a worm and scored. The Mets were swarming around the Aries' net and Briden lifted the puck. The gong sounded as the rubber whizzed through the air and robbed the youngster of a goal, for it went in as clean as a whistle.

The Aries were decidedly off last night. They seemed bothered by the persistency of the Mets' defence and could find no key that would let them through.

Fowler played a fine game all the way and cleared many terrific shots. He did considerable stickhandling at times and once got half way to the blue line.

Not Cracked Yet.

With Rickey back in their line-up the Mets do not look like the cracked team that a lot of people said they were.

The teams:

Victoria.	Position.	Seattle.
Fowler	Goal	Holmes
Oatman	Defence	Rickey

net. Fowler, however, cleared well. The Victoria forwards, with Halderson on right wing for the first time on local ice, traveled nicely, but they could not press their attack to a finish. Rickey was always in the way.

The first score and the only one that the Mets needed to win the game, came after Rickey put his head down to his knees and started roaring like a freight train towards the Victoria net. Morris trailed him closely and when "Rick" found he could get no farther he passed to Bernie and the chimes rang.

Victoria's net had another narrow squeek when Briden got in on top of Fowler and right afterwards Riley let fly a hot one, and Rickey followed with another.

Just Saved One.

Then came a series of rushes by Victoria. Oatman and Frederickson went in well, but Holmes kicked out Eddie's shot. Right afterwards Clem Loughlin and Dunderdale broke clean through and Holmes just got his toe to the puck in time.

Seattle opened strong in the second period, and Fowler had to stop two in a row, doing a cake walk to get rid of Morris's shot. The Mets got shooting badly, and this saved Fowler considerable work. Then things warmed up for the only time in the game. Rickey tried to do a solo rush, but Meeking upset him, recovered the puck and made a rip-snorting excursion into Seattle's goal-area, but he failed to score. Halderson and Oatman followed in and the puck bounced off Holmes's knee. Meeking and Halderson went in again and Slim just missed a corner.

Clem Missed Chance.

The Mets scented trouble, buckled on their armor more tightly and started on the war-path. Meeking and Halderson came together in an effort to clear the puck, and both went down. Briden rushed in, grabbed the puck and had an open shot, but he sent it towards the dressing rooms. Victoria had a decided advantage when Riley trotted to the bench for slashing, but they could not break through for a goal. Clem Loughlin came the nearest, putting in a terrific shot which flew back off Holmes's pads and following in Clem just missed a rebound by inches.

The Aries tried a third-period rally and Clem and Halderson nearly caught Holmes napping. Halderson hurt his knee when he shot into the boards, but he resumed the game as soon as he shook himself. Fowler and Morris then had a little game all to themselves. Morris shot and Hec let him try again, giving him the puck. This thing happened three times in a row, but nothing came of the exchange of greetings. Clem Loughlin, who played splendidly all night, tried a rush with his defence partner Oatman, and a slip up in front of the net prevented a tie up. Holmes saved right afterwards on a drive from Dunderdale. Halderson also showed up well with his fine stick-handling and several of his rushes developed well, but finished nowhere.

Mets Go Gunning.

Foyston flashed into the limelight and bothered Fowler with several close in shots. Then Rickey decided to drive another nail into the Aries'

All Sporting Fixtures To-day Cancelled by Heavy Snow-Fall

All sports fixtures that were scheduled for to-day were cancelled owing to the heavy layer of snow. Rugby and soccer officials decided to call off all games, not wishing to have the athletes take any chances of getting hurt.

The Mets and Wests were to have met in an Island League soccer game at the Royal Athletic Park but they would have required snow-shoes to get about.

The rugby games were to have been between the Wanderers and Naval College and the Bays and Old Boys.

The Combination League football games were also set to one side.

COLWOOD GOLF LINKS

Although four inches of snow have fallen in the city, little more than a flurry has attacked the Colwood Golf Links, and members and visitors are advised that in the event of no more of the "beautiful" falling in the meantime, the course will be open for play to-morrow. Should it rain, however, the frost still remaining in the ground would cause many of the fairways and greens to flood. Under those conditions play would not be permitted.

Dempsey Is Fussing 'Cause He Can't Get Job in Own Country

Heavyweight Champion Now Member of Unemployed Ranks; Manager Kearns Doing His Best in New York to Land Someone to Stage a Bout for Jack's Benefit; Perhaps He'll Have to Go Abroad to Get His Wages.

New York, Jan. 28.—Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, said to-day that Promoter Tex Rickard might be asked to stage a return match between the world's heavyweight boxing champion, and Georges Carpentier in Europe next Summer.

"I have not approached Rickard," said Kearns, "but the idea appeals to me as a way out of a most unusual situation. Here I am with the best fighter in the world on my hands and I can not find an opportunity to get him in the ring with an opponent who appears to have enough chance to draw a paying crowd. At least that's the situation so far as matchmaking talk is concerned by promoters whose word and money is something tangible to gamble on.

Promoters Are Shy.

"I know that there has been a lot of talk in the newspapers about Dempsey meeting Wills, Fulton, Brennan and others, but the point is that I have yet to have a promoter come forward with a real offer for a match with any of these men.

"As I have said a dozen times, Dempsey is ready to meet anyone who looks as though he would prove a real drawing card. The champion is in fine condition and could box a title match with two weeks' training if necessary.

Doesn't Know Who It Will Be.

"I am going to be in New York for a week or ten days, and hope to have Dempsey matched for at least one bout before I return to the coast. Right now I have no particular man in sight.

"I believe that another bout between Dempsey and Carpentier might go big abroad, but I would want to know that a reliable and experienced promoter was going to handle the thousand and one details which make or break such a match. I shall certainly not do any business with foreign promoters until Rickard refuses to match Dempsey either here or abroad."

Rickard declined to discuss the proposition, other than to say that he would listen to any suggestion Kearns might offer.

Purses Too High.

Dempsey's inability to get a match is irritating him. He wants to get into the ring and fight. Of course he wants something worth while fighting for and there is no one nowadays who wants to go guaranteeing big purses for bouts in which it is probable that Jack's opponent would not last more than a couple of rounds. If Dempsey were willing to reduce his rates and take on all the birds that are clamoring for bouts irrespective of any big returns he would no doubt get plenty of action. But these days a prize-fighter wants to be well paid for every blow he takes and receives. High purses have made it impossible to stage bouts every day in the week.

ONTARIO GOALIES REFUSE TO WEAR MASKS IN GAMES

Toronto, Jan. 28.—Legislation enacted by the Ontario Hockey Association providing for the use of baseball catcher's masks by goalkeepers, appear to be a useless provision and unpopular to say the least, few if any goalkeepers having availed themselves of the privilege of equipping themselves with "birdcages." Referees through the province report an utter absence of the paraphernalia in league games. Serious accidents and at least one death have resulted from goalkeepers being hit in the face or head with the puck shot by incoming forwards, and that was the reason for adoption by the O. H. A.

NEWSIES TO PROVIDE BASKETBALL FEATURE

Community Centre Will See Snappy Game; Crusaders and Newsies To-night

A fine programme has been arranged for to-night's concert at the Community Centre at the Armories. The Fifth Regiment is proving itself very capable at handling this week-end sport and concert feature and has always some innovation to offer the public. To-night the fifteen minutes band concert will be immediately followed by a basketball game between the Newsies and the Crusaders. The swimming pool, which is the largest this side of Toronto, will be available to men during the evening. Following the basketball game, dancing will be indulegd in, the music being provided by the Fifth Regiment band under Bandmaster Rumsby.

The Newspaper Club will oppose the Crusaders' "B" team which has only received one defeat so far this season. The James Bay Methodist Church handed them this in the Sunday School league. The Crusaders have a fine lot of boys and an exceptional game should be the result.

The Crusaders line-up is as follows: Bud Bass, Bill Holman, Reginald Greaves, Sid Hole and C. Ferris.

LADIES' TEAM TO SETTLE AN ISSUE

High School and V. I. A. A. Teams Will Meet To-night in City League Game

Everyone who is connected with the Victoria Ladies' Basketball League is deeply interested in the game that is to be played this evening at the V. I. A. A. This will be the first occasion on which these two teams have come together, and although most folks predict a win for the High School girls one and all are looking forward to witnessing one of the most thrilling ladies' games that has ever been staged in this city.

The V. I. A. A. ladies although playing together as a team for the first time this season, have been successful in winning from all of the other teams in the League. The victories have been due to their excellent combination, and team play while most of the points in the games have been made by Gladys Elliot, the crack forward, who was a member of last year's High School team.

Both Teams Are Fit.

The team has been putting in some hard work in preparation for this game, and they are in condition for a whirlwind encounter. The High School team is without a doubt one of the finest in the Province, and is composed of finished players who have gained their experience only by years of faithful practice and during the last two years they have only lost one game, that being last month, when they were defeated by the crack five from the University of British Columbia.

To-night's game is scheduled to commence sharply at 8 o'clock, and it will be refereed by L. Fatt the Christ Church player.

Prior to the ladies' game the V. I. Midgets team, which is composed of boys averaging ten years of age, will play against a picked team of boys representing Victoria West. This game should also be very interesting to watch, as the combination of the two teams is wonderful for players so young, and the rivally between them is very keen.

The team for to-night's game will be as follows:

High School—Florrie Gates and D. Mellville, guards; Muriel Daniels, centre; Isobel Crawford and Doris Grubb, forwards; I. Worthington, spare.

V. I. A. A.—Una Shakespeare and Connie Beales, guards; Mrs. Wallace, centre; Mrs. W. H. Davies and Gladys Elliott, forwards; Doris Humber, spare.

V. I. Midgets—T. Wallace and K. Findler, guards; Ablie Davies, centre; Tiny Cross and Ray Rickinson, forwards; Jim McConnell, spare.

Victoria West—D. Pastmore and Jumbo Davies, guards; W. Morris, centre; M. Morris and Fred Fry, forwards.

CANADIAN PACER WINS FEATURE ICE EVENT

Mount Clemens, Mich., Jan. 28.—A new ice record at three miles was set here yesterday when Senator Wilkes, a Canadian pacer, won the feature of the final day's programme in 7.24½. The time bested that of Gessner in a similar event at Ottawa.

Only four horses entered the long distance dash. Senator Wilkes took first place. D. J. Burke beat Billy Abdell a neck for second place, and Hally C. was fourth.

Glenwood Todd and Walter Bin-de won the 2.24 pace and the classified trot respectively in straight heats, and the classified pace went to Rulie Cochato.

JIM AND JOCK WIN TWO MORE MATCHES

Los Angeles, Jan. 28.—Jim Barnes, American open golf champion and Jock Hutchison, British champion, won two exhibition matches at the Hollywood country club here yesterday. In the afternoon they defeated Elmer (Gloomy Gus) Henderson, football coach of the University of Southern California, and Thomas Campbell, amateurs, four and three. The afternoon victory was over Charles (Chick) Fraser, and William Amor, professionals 7 and 6.

GEORGES WAS NOT HURT BY DEMPSEY

Carpentier Says He Contracted Fever in Africa and Body Is Not Injured

That Georges Carpentier was not internally injured by Jack Dempsey's punishment and that the real cause for his twice postponing his recent bout with George Cook, the Australian, was due to a fever which he contracted on his visit to South Africa, is the statement of the Frenchman in a story he has written for the All Sports, of London. He refutes all statements that Dempsy hurt him badly. Georges says in part:

"I returned from Africa, full of fever; my digestion was all wrong; I developed an ugly facial rash, and I placed myself in the hands of a specialist, who declared that I should probably never be fitted to fight again if I did not have a complete rest.

"All my trunks were packed and ready to be dispatched to London. Mr. Gustave Wilson, who is the proprietor of a health farm at Manhasset, where I did my training for the match with Dempsey, I had specially engaged to be my masseur. He had come from New York; my chef, Battling Marco, I had told off to prepare for the journey to London; all my English friends had been informed that I was about to leave France, and here I was stricken with illness.

"I pleaded with my doctor to allow me to travel; I insisted that my ailment would leave me in a day or two, but he was firm that I should remain indoors. Then it was that Descamps let it be known that the fight could not be on December 2.

Postponed Again.

"Major Wilson asked that it should be staged before the year was out; we readily consented, in the full belief that I could get fit in the time. But as days followed and my complete convalescence did not come, there was no alternative but to crave for a second postponement. This was only granted after Major Wilson had visited me and had convinced himself that I was the victim of a very real and not a diplomatic illness.

"I find there is a disposition to believe that my experience against Dempsey has left me fight-shy. I would explode such a notion; neither morally nor physically am I any the worse for the defeat by the American.

"I am unmarked; I have no regrets, for I have the sure feeling that no man could have beaten Dempsey on July 2; to fall before such a fighter can be no disgrace. Dempsey I shall ever regard as a wonder, and there is no trace of bitterness in me. That which happened to me at Jersey City I have forgotten.

Figures He's Just Right.

"I fight because I want to fight, because I like fighting, because I consider my qualities have not in the least degree been impaired. If I felt that I was not the man I was before I went to America, a fight with George Cook or any other boxer I would never engage in.

"It was with the idea of presenting myself before the British public so soon as I was in England, that I gladly availed myself of the opportunity of taking part in the recent tournament at Brighton.

"I wanted to show that I was no sick man; that I was not a shell of the old Carpentier; that I had not come out of my affair with Dempsey a thing battered and broken; and I am sufficiently vain to believe that I succeeded in my purpose."

CANNOT SPEND TOO MUCH MONEY ON EDUCATION

Dean Coleman Deplores Tendency to Minimize Importance of Proper Schooling

"I have yet to meet any community in the civilized world which spends too much money on its educational system; I have known communities spend too much money on paved streets, on inducing industries to establish themselves and poison the air with the fumes from their smoke-stacks; I have known a community spend too much money on its public men, considering the quality of its public men. Nations have spent fabulous sums on armies and battleships. How many schools would the cost of a $36,000,000 battleship build and support? Nations have had to spend enormous sums on diplomatic services, penal institutions and the enforcement of the law simply because they have not spent enough money on their schools. The same with the individual. People will starve themselves or mortgage their homes to buy an automobile. Did you ever know of them doing this to send their children to school? A country will mortgage itself to the hilt to build a railway which leads into the wilderness and rust, but will not mortgage itself to provide the education which leads into the promised land."

Education for the Many.

The above trenchant observations were made by Dean Coleman of the faculty of the University of British Columbia in the course of an illuminating and rousing address delivered at the Victoria College last evening. His subject was, "What Is Vital in Modern Education," and his scholary theses furnish much food for thought at a time when the subject of education is paramount in many communities.

While admitting that there is really very little that is new in modern education and that the theory of education as we have it to-day was worked out by the Ancient Greeks, the speaker emphasized the modernity of the democratic conception that education is for the many rather than for the few. The old fallacy that colleges and universities were for "those who toil not neither do they spin" is exploded. The college is the one institution that is the hope and the indispensable foundation of democracy, the real democracy which can only result through the blood and sweat and tears of a nation, observed the speaker.

A Liberal Education.

The old idea of a liberal education was the education available to the boy of superior heredity, superior wealth and the leisure necessary to a detached interest in the things of the mind. To-day a liberal education means not an education reserved to a particular class or few. It is now realized that education is a condition of freedom, not a perquisite of freedom, said Dean Coleman, "Freedom is not a heredity, not a something with which we are born; but a condition of the heart and mind to be achieved."

Pointing out that the rise of the industrial era had brought in its wake the idea that every man should have a common education, in the shape of a training in the three R's, Dean Coleman observed that the democratic society had never been liberal in its education. It was always prepared to spend more money in armies and battleships, on its politicians and its industries than in educating its future citizens. "Yet it is better to spend millions on schools and colleges than to put the vote with its immense power for good or evil into the hands of a half-educated electorate."

For The "Ordinary" Child.

The Dean deplored the existence of the old heresy that education should be of two kinds, the "vocational" or the "cultural." The old idea still exists that the common school education is enough for the ordinary boy and girl. "Who is the ordinary boy and girl? Is it your son or daughter? Oh, no, it is always the child next door, or in the next street. As a matter of fact the 'common' school education is not good enough for the ordinary child, who is yours and mine—education is not a gift, it is an achievement. It is not a commodity, it is a process," explained the Dean.

The tendency still existed to regard cultural education as for one section of the community only, and that vocational training should be reserved only for the artisan. The result was evident to-day in the number of lawyers without briefs, doctors without practices, and involving the black coat on the back and the pen in hand.

Wastage in Curriculum.

Tracing the history of the elementary school and college, Dean Coleman declared that there is still much wastage in the school-life of a child "All that is necessary in the elementary school curriculum could be learned in six years instead of eight now taken. I would willingly forego my knowledge of complex fractions, stocks and bonds, but I would not forego the peeps into the poetry which is the great heritage of the English speaking peoples."

Status of Teachers.

The Dean emphasized the fact that much of the success of modern education would depend upon the teacher and the methods employed, and that it was in the training of capable teachers and leaders that the college and university played their important part in the social fabric. "Until we take more pains with the education and training of our teachers until we give them a proper social status (and salary to maintain it) to mark their importance, we shall have wrong methods in our schools."

At the close of the address Dean Coleman was warmly thanked, the vote being sponsored by B. C. Nicholas and Mrs. Spofford. Mrs Coleman added to the pleasure of the gathering by singing two songs delightfully.

Principal E. B. Paul, M.A., was in the chair.

The quarterly official board of James Bay Methodist Church this week approved a scheme for the handling of the mortgage indebtedness, by which a considerable reduction will be made by the end of the church year, April 30, and a sinking fund formed for the liquidation of the whole amount. F. W. Davey and Ira Dilworth were appointed a special committee to handle the working out of the details.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH

You Can Do This by Keeping the Blood Rich and Red.

It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Every woman at the head of a home; every girl in offices, shops and factories is subjected to more or less worry. These worries cannot be avoided. But it is the duty of every woman and every girl to save her strength as much as possible, and to build up her system to meet unusual demands. Her future health depends upon it. To guard against a breakdown the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. To keep the blood in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found most useful. They strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite and bring the glow of health to pallid cheeks, and renewed energy to listless people. Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep up their strength through the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is shown by the case of Mrs. Minnie Swick, residing near Simcoe, Ont., who says: "A few years ago I was in a deplorable state of health. My blood was weak and watery and the circulation poor. My appetite was poor and what food I did take distressed me. I was not able to do my housework, and often my nights were sleepless, and headache and backache added to my misery. I was finally persuaded to drop other medicines and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This I did, and after taking the pills for a couple of months I could do my housework with ease, eat well, slept well and had gained in weight. From my own experience I cannot praise these pills too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. (Advt.)

ANNUAL MEETINGS OF CHURCHES HAVE BEEN NUMEROUS

Following closely on the Anglican church vestries, this week have come round the Presbyterian church annual meetings. In both cases the churches have been able to show substantial progress in and around Victoria, and particularly in the development of auxiliary institutions which must be associated in the present day with the modern large religious organization if it is to appeal to the varying needs of some 500 to 1,000 members.

The Presbyterian church has a large following in this city and district, with many subsidiary organizations. The reports of the three largest churches here all show that the development of the last few years has been sustained, and that in some cases development has taken place in spite of a very difficult year, with much unemployment, which generally leaves its imparing effect on church membership.

CHURCH IS RUN BY CHILDREN

A church controlled by children who perform every office except that of preacher, has been attended with marked success at Staincliffe, near Leeds, England. Boys act as sidesmen, wardens, and bell-ringers, and girls as organists and choir. The choristers wear white veils.

The girls also read the lessons and take charge of the collections. The south aisle of the parish church has been fitted with special pews and a small altar for communion. Services are held every Sunday morning before the ordinary service.

The new development has proved far more attractive than the ordinary Sunday-school lessons.

Service of Praise.—On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, at St. John's, there will be the regular monthly service of praise. On this occasion as is usual at these services, the best known congregational hymns will be sung, and the chants to be read during the service will also be the kind in which all can heartily join. There will also be several quartettes and chorus anthems by the choir. The rector, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, will give a short address on the history of "Rock of Ages," one of the most popular of the hymns of the church and the singing of this hymn will be included in the service. A confirmation class has been started which is being held in two divisions, one every Sunday afternoon at 2.30, and the other on Wednesday evenings at 7.30, all those desiring to join are invited.

"Blue" Sunday.—In the Congregational Church to-morrow evening Rev. W. D. Spence will answer several questions he has been asked in connection with the much discussed blue laws.

FAIRFIELD METHODIST CHURCH SERVICES

Revival Addresses to Continue Throughout Week

During the past year the members of the Fairfield Methodist Church have made splendid progress in their building operations, having erected a suitable hall for Divine worship, until such time as their future plans are completed for the building of a new Sunday school and church edifice.

They realize that to have a live church they need people who are pulsating with Divine enthusiasm to help others to reach out to the Highest.

Therefore, the members of the Quarterly Official Board of the church, have completed arrangements, whereby, the pastor, Rev. S. Cook, will commence special services on Sunday to be continued throughout the week each night at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Daniel Walker of the Gorge Presbyterian Church, very kindly consented to assist the pastor each evening.

The pastor, with the members of the Board, look forward with pleasure to the attendance of the people of Fairfield district to these Gospel services.

TO CONTINUE WORK OF RECENT MISSION

Co-operative Mission Follow-up Fellowship Planned

Pursuant to arrangements made by the Inter-Church Evangelistic Committee entrusted with the management of the recent Co-Operative Mission in the district, Wesley Methodist and St. Paul's Presbyterian Churches, Victoria West, will hold a "follow up" fellowship meeting in the lecture hall of St. Paul's Church on Wednesday, February 1, opening with a song service at 7.30 o'clock. The meeting is designed to be of special benefit to those in both congregations, who during the mission, signed "decision" and "service" cards.

The Sunday services in both churches will follow the schedule in use prior to the Evangelistic Mission. At Wesley Church, Rev. J. F. Dimmick, pastor, will conduct public worship at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. At St. Paul's, Rev. Thomas Menzies, M. P. P., convener of the Presbytery's committee on general interests, will preach at 11 a. m. The evening service at 7.30 will be conducted by Rev. A. C. Smith, assistant to Rev. Dr. W. Leslie Clay, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The Sunday schools and Bible classes will return to the regular schedule, and meet each at the usual time and place.

BRITISH COLUMBIA BIBLE SOCIETY

There was a large representation of denominations and congregations at the annual meeting of the Canadian Bible Society, held Thursday evening in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Vancouver.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, L. S. Klinck, of the University of British Columbia; Treasurer, J. P. D. Malkin; Secretary, Thomas Pattie Wilson. The Vice-Presidents elected included Bishop Schofield, of Victoria, and Rev. Dr. Clay, Victoria.

The annual report of the British Columbia auxiliary was presented by the district secretary, Rev. J. Knox Wright. This showed that 9,074 Bibles, Testaments or portions of Scripture had been distributed during the past year, and that the total income of the auxiliary was $10,961. Of this amount $7,230 was raised by subscriptions and the balance by sales and accounts. The total number of Bibles circulated was not quite as high as in 1920, but this is explained by the fact that a large number were distributed in 1920 to Chinese and Czecho-Slavs who passed through to Europe.

The report made mention of the bequest of Mrs. T. M. Bird, who had always been an active member of the society, and the regret caused by the death of Noah Shakespeare, honorary president of the Victoria branch.

"SPIRITUAL EDUCATION" SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

On Sunday morning the service at the Unitarian Church, Fernwood Road, will be conducted by Alexander Thomson, who will speak on the important subject of "Spiritual Education." Mr. Thomson returned to Victoria recently from a short preaching and lecturing tour in the United States, where he met with a very cordial reception. One reference to his lecture on "David Lloyd George, or from Poor Boy to Prime Minister" was that it "was rich with human interest and convincing eloquence," while the Rev. Dr. Edgar C. Wheeler, of Tacoma, commended Mr. Thomson to the American churches "for the high spiritual value of his preaching and the interesting and stimulating qualities of his platform message."

AT CATHEDRAL TO-MORROW.

The Dean of Columbia will preach at both morning and evening services in Christ Church Cathedral to-morrow. At the eleven o'clock service, the Dean's sermon will be in answer to the question, "Is the date of the end of the world foretold in the Book of Revelation?" and at the seven o'clock service to-morrow night, Dean Quainton will preach on "Jesus Christ—the Rest-Giver."

TWO SERVICES TO BE RETAINED

To Continue Services at St. James's, Dean Announces

The Sunday School and Sunday evening services will be maintained in St. James's Church until further notice, it was announced to-day by the Dean of Columbia. Arrangements for the continuation of the Sunday School will be made to-morrow afternoon at 2.45 o'clock in the Church. The evening service to-morrow night at 7 o'clock will be conducted by Rev. F. H. Fatt. Next Sunday evening's service will be in charge of Rev. T. E. Rowe, who will conduct services in St. James's Church until further notice.

It is reported that some residents in James Bay have been uncertain whether provision would be continued for the religious instruction of children in the parish and for holding of Sunday services. "It may be definitely stated," said the Dean, "that the Sunday School of St. James's parish will be carried on without interruption, and everything possible will be done to provide for the spiritual needs of the church people in the district. If Sunday school or bible classes for boys and girls in the teen-age are not possible at present, they will be gladly received at the Cathedral Sunday School. But, generally speaking, parents belonging to the Anglican Church are invited to attend St. James's Sunday School, and all will be cordially welcomed at the Sunday evening services which will be held weekly at seven o'clock. Communicants of the Church in the district are invited to make the greatest possible use of the Sunday and week-day communion services in the Cathedral."

STRIKING TRIBUTE TO VETERAN WHO PASSED THIS WEEK

"Soldier of Christ, Well Done," Says His Metropolitan

That Archdeacon W. H. Collison, who died this week, rendered memorable service in the North, is the tribute paid by Archbishop Du Vernet, who speaks of him in the following terms:

Archbishop's Testimony

"In the passing into the Great Beyond of the Venerable Archdeacon William Henry Collison," said Archbishop Du Vernet, Metropolitan Bishop of British Columbia, "Northern British Columbia has lost its veteran missionary who for over forty-eight years labored steadily in this region. The outline of his life is quickly given but it would take a volume to fill in the details.

"He was born over seventy five years ago in the North of Ireland. When he was a young man he became a school teacher, and was teaching in Cork in the South of Ireland when he then went to the church missionary college at Islington where he prepared for the mission field. Being told in 1873 that it was best for him not to go alone to the North Pacific, he married in August of that year a trained nurse who had done heroic service on the battlefields of France during the Franco-Prussian war. In less than four weeks with his young bride he was on his way West and after traveling almost continuously for two months arrived at Metalakatla early in November, 1873.

At Metlakatla

"For three years he labored under Wm. Duncan, the pioneer missionary. On November 1, 1876, with his wife and child, he landed at Masset on the North end of Graham Island which is one of the Queen Charlotte Group off in the Pacific Ocean, and became the pioneer missionary to the Haida Indians both at Masset and Skidegate. In 1879 he was recalled to Metlakatla as he was one of the few who could work without friction under Mr. Duncan. In the interval he had been ordained first deacon and then priest by Bishop Borpas who made a special trip on foot and by canoe across the Rocky Mountains. In 1880 he opened the Mission at Hazelton going up the Skeena River by canoe but did not remain there long. Returning to Metlakatla he continued to labor there until 1883 when with growing family he was finally located at Kincolith, an Indian village at the mouth of the Naas River where after over thirty-eight years of unselfish toil for the benefit of others he laid down his life.

Hallowed Spot.

"Three years before him the beloved partner of his missionary career ceased her devoted efforts for the uplifting of the native women and children, and was buried in a sheltered spot on a grassy slope of the cliff above Kincolith. This was a great blow to the veteran missionary. Offered by the Bishop an easier post, he resolutely declined as though wedded to the spot hallowed by so many associations of the past.

"On the rugged cliff there is no longer a lonely grave. Such in brief outline is the story of a great and noble life lived amongst much seclusion. The church honored him in 1891 by giving him the rank of Archdeacon, but neither in Western Canada or in Great Britain and Ireland was he fully recognized as no doubt he will be in time, as one of the great heroes of the Mission Field. We are glad that he has left us his book entitled 'In the Wake of the War Canoe,' but we shall miss his fervent Irish eloquence and his sympathetic Christain fellowship. Northern British Columbia salutes its veteran missionary. 'Soldier of Christ, well done.'"

To Preach To-morrow.—The Rev. P. E. Baisler, of Grace Church, has returned to the city and will occupy the pulpit at both services at Grace Church to-morrow. A brief report will be given of the convention of the Pacific Synod held in St. John's English Lutheran Church, Tacoma, beginning January 18.

WHAT ELAINE SAW IN THE FAIRY RING AS TWILIGHT CAME

ELAINE discovered one morning that she had been going to school for a year, and though the discovery brought the pride of accomplishment, yet somehow, it lacked the flavor of sweetness. Truth to tell. Elaine was a little tired of school just then. You see, she had been going to the little brown school over the hill top, from her home at the end of the country village all year, and was unfortunate enough to be in a class where she found herself to be among the blacksheep.

It was not that the little girl was stubborn, or that she did not really try, but just that she did not really understand what it was all about, and so did not make a success of her lessons. Lessons to Elaine were lessons, something that would in due course be followed by detention and impositions, impositions in turn being tasks that held her at school, almost daily, until one hour after all others had gone home to play.

Try as she would, and she did try, Elaine could not be brought to see the value of rows of figures. Endless chains of "2's" which had to be added together and then treated with another chain of "1's," or maybe "4's." No matter what chain was to be so juggled, Elaine would have it wrong. Other lessons appeared to her in much the same light, all save drawing, and in this subject Elaine found success.

Often and often on the walk home from school Elaine would sit down by a group of trees and commence drawing. It might be a cow that attracted her attention in a nearby field, or a rabbit as it hopped in and out of its burrow. In this the little girl was at home, and her drawing was ever far in advance of her school mates, even eclipsing those of senior grades. It was in such a mixture of moods that Elaine wended her way home on the day in question, and met with adventures only to be understood by those who believe in fairies.

Now on the road from the school to the village was a clump of trees, formed in a graceful circle, with the green sward below. This was known throughout that land, where similar rings were frequent, as a fairy ring, and superstition had lent to these circular clumps the dignity of legend. It was said, and very widely believed, that in the twilight of the day the fairies would come and dance in the fairy rings, their little feet skiping merrily and free over the cool green grasses.

Though the villagers would talk proudly about that fairy ring, none would enter, for believing in the "little people" as the fairies were called, and wishing to see them at first hand were two different things. So Elaine departed from all customs in wandering inside the fairy ring as the sun dropped down over the hill top. The irksomeness of the never ending impositions palled on her, and to get a breath of fresh air before going home was her objection on this occasion.

No sooner had the little girl seated herself in the ring shut off from the outside world by the tall, stately trees, standing as sentinels around the green sward, than she thought she noticed the sound of music, sweet, yet undefinable, floating in that festooned dusk. Elaine leaned back with her head resting against a tree hole, and watched. What happened then was set forth later by the little girl to her mother at the close of the day.

It seemed the 'little people" were restless at the presence of humans, and peeked about between the trees before venturing into the open. After a few moments of this one came forth, followed by another, and yet more, until some forty were gathered in the shady bower.

The fairy music rose in intensity and became more distinct, sounding like the strains of many flutes. The fairy company split up into groups and commenced dancing, but with an ease and the lithsome grace not known to humans. Elaine watched and watched enchanted, until the first silver gleam of the moon rising over the hill sent the "little people" scurrying away. Before they left however, the leader, a beautiful fairy with wings of gossamer, stooped over the huddled form of the little girl and smiled down at the upturned face.

Elated with the wonders of enchantment, Elaine ran off home and told her mother what has just been recounted. Next day Elaine returned to school and looked in at the grass of the fairy ring, but no footmarks were to be seen. School the next day passed like lightning, and for a wonder no impositions came the way of little Elaine, for whenever she was best by a hard sum of addition, or subtraction, something told her what to do. Life after that was one long and merry experience for the little girl who believed in fairies, and whom the fairies loved.

Little reader, believe if you must, that "two and two makes four," for realism is necessary in many things of life, but do not disbelieve in beautiful thoughts. Fairies are the unseen beauties of life, and your way and mine would be but grey, if the fairies were taken out of our daily life.

ESSAY CONTEST WILL CLOSE ON TUESDAY; MANY ENTRIES IN

THIS is the last opportunity afforded to remind our readers of the "1922 Programme" contest before the closing of that essay competition. The final date is January 31, and all contributions must be in the hands of the Children's Page editor by 4 o'clock on that day, to be included in the judging. A single prize of five dollars will be awarded to the successful essayist, while such essays as may be suitable will be published in these columns.

The competition, as our constant readers will already know, is open to all girls and boys of the age of 15 years and under, with the choice of the subject being anything planned by the contributor for the coming year. It matters not whether the essay be written about a setof new year's resolutions, a new book to be read, dolls dresses to be made, or a career in life, any and all of these matters are of interest to our fellow readers. The usual rules of composition will apply, and let it be again stated, do not forget your name, age and address.

A generous response has been received to the contest already, but like all else in life, there is always room at the top. Our problems, be they of work or play, are much the same the world over, and the thoughts held by one are never lacking in interest to others. It is only by the exchange of ideas in such a manner as this that we are permitted to see what is the best course for us, whether it be but the making of a rag doll or the planning of a life's work.

Many contributors have written about their new year's resolutions, and in a manner that makes very engaging reading indeed. One little girl made a list of thirteen resolutions last year, but this year has taxed herself with but one. This little essayist is meeting with more success when bound by but one resolution than was given to the ill-fated thirteen of "yester-year."

One little man has written his essay on resolutions, and tells us that he has made up his mind not to complain this year no matter what the provocation. There is so much complaining in the world, he says, that if people only stopped to think they would see that there was really nothing to grumble about. Here, then, is one idea that is well worth exchange, nor need the advice be confined to our readers, for that axiom is good for all, children and children-grown up.

Do not be afraid of the subject. Take whatever branch of the outline you most care for, and tell the story in your own words. A good idea simply expressed is worth far more than old ideas in a colorful coating of words. Confine your essay to some 350 words in length, and certainly not any longer. Your plans for the Easter holidays, your hopes for promotion at work or school, your reading list for the year, all are equally interesting to your fellow readers, so commence at once. Time is drawing short, and who knows, maybe it is your idea of the year to come that so many of us are looking for, to apply to ourselves. Address all entries, "1922 Programme Contest," care of Children's Page, The Times, City.

Work Around House

FOR the handy man about the house, the last for weeks of Winter weather are precious. Now is the time to take foot rule and make a note of the urgent matters of repairing that should be attended to before the call of fine weather draws you from the house into the open air. It is wonderful what can be accomplished with a hammer, nails, and a sense of proportion. A little quiet review of the average house in this manner will reveal any number of little requirements that would be easily met with simple carpentry. Now is the time, for, with the arrival of fine weather, the inclination will disappear.

NOT INFECTIOUS.

"I am delighted to meet you," earnestly remarked the proud parent to the college professor. "My son took algebra from you last year, I think."

"No, he was exposed to it, but it did not take," responded the learned man.

AN AWKWARD DILEMMA.

An elderly gentleman was endeavoring without much success, to enter a street car. He weighed, roughly, one would say, about 250 pounds.

"Try sideways, man, try sideways," called the conductor, irritated.

"It is all very well to stand there and yell 'sideways,' roared the gentleman, "but I've got no 'sideways.'"

VAMPIRE BATS ARE NOT SO BAD AS PICTURED

FOUND only in some districts of South America, the vampire bat is a creature of nature that has been much maligned. It is said that the vampire bat lived on the blood of animals and men even. The truth, as proved many times over by naturalists, is that the vampire bat lives on insects first, and only turns to the blood of birds and animals when there are no insects to be had.

An eminent naturalist recently imprisoned a number of vampire bats in a room of an old house. The room was sealed but for one large window, which was heavily netted, so that only insects could get inside. In the same rooms were placed some birds and small animals. For as long as the window was thus screened, and insects could come into the room, the vampire bats took their food from that source alone.

The window was then closed and shuttered. It was now found that the bats attacked birds, and several birds were found dead on the floor in the morning with their life blood gone. After the removal of the birds the first traces of blood was found on the animals, and from this it is held that vampire bats will not attack birds or animals as long as insects are available.

True stories of the bats attacking men asleep, and sucking blood from their arms, face and feet (if exposed), are at hand in plenty, but the loss of blood in most cases has been exaggerated, and death seldom results even in such rare cases. To look at the vampire bat is not attractive, with low, squat, head and spoon-shaped ears. His wings often measure 28 inches from tip to tip, while his body is peculiarly small for such a large wing area.

Seagulls Are Tame

WITH the wet and stormy days of Winter prevalent now, seagulls are to be seen in very unusual places in and around the houses of the city. Particularly is this noticeable in town where seagulls may be seen in rows on tall office buildings, shifting uneasily as the smoke of chimneys turns in their direction. Flooded fields are haunted with the birds at this time, too, and it is no uncommon sight to see over fifty seagulls gathered together on some football ground, paddling around in several inches of water. It is difficult to imagine what food the gulls can obtain on shore, but apparently they do get food for the practice is general.

ELEPHANTS USED LARGELY BY MAN; SOON FIRM FRIENDS

NOW and then an elephant is brought to the city with this circus or that. As you look at the great waddling fellow, little reader, do you know how he first came to the hands of men? In India there are a tribe of elephants noted for their immense size and wonderful strength. They, for many generations, have been used by man to do much of his heavy work in the jungles of that land.

The capture of wild animals becomes necessary almost every year to make up, for some that pass the span of life, and others that are lost in the bush while at work, while numbers too are required for the circus and zoological gardens throughout the world. Trained elephants, ridden by the native trainers, called Mahouts, are used in this work of capturing wild elephants, the mode employed is interesting.

The trained elephants are ridden out into the jungles where herds of elephants have been sighted. They are driven after a round-up, into the particular herd that is to be captured, and the real work commences. Two trained elephants get a wild fellow of their kind between them, and hustle him out of the herd. He is taken and thus jostled to a stout tree and there roped in a manner that prevents his escape, or from using his great strength to break away.

The remainder of the herd are treated in the same manner until the entire herd has been corralled. Tethered in this manner, the wild animals are set an example by the tame beasts until they begin to see that man is their master, and that they must do what he wishes, so long as it is reasonable. Though patient and docile, when trained, the elephant is not clever. It takes a good deal of time to teach him to obey his new master, with the force of example being the one thing that appeals to him at all readily.

In a few weeks the once wild herd is tamed sufficiently to be ridden by other mahouts, and the whole troup returns to its base. Elephants trained in this manner are used for hauling timbers to construction works, in carrying large loads over well nigh impassable ground, and to many other uses. They become extremely devoted to their masters, if these be kind, and have an aptitude of affection for one rather than for many. At all hot seasons of the year they are likely to become restive, and at such times often become wild and run amok. If this happens tame elephants are used to round up the wayward again, and in course of time all is again working in harmony.

The elephant is one of the few animals that man must tame in the end by sheer kindness and decent treatment, for he has ever the upper hand in the matter of strength, and could crush his master with one of his immense feet if angered. To their credit let it be said that trainers become so fond of their charges that the death of one is like the loss of a dear friend. Of many animals that have been trained to the uses of man the elephant is one that is devoted and an ever willing worker.

NOTHING TO BOAST ABOUT.

"Behold the spider, my son, is it not wonderful how its spins its web, no man could do that," instructed the proud parent.

"Well, behold, Dad, how I spin this top, no spider could do that," said Willie.

"I've lost a wallet with $600 in it," said Brown excitedly to his friend, "how much will I have to offer as a reward to get it back?"

"Where did you lose it?"

"At New York, just as I got on this train."

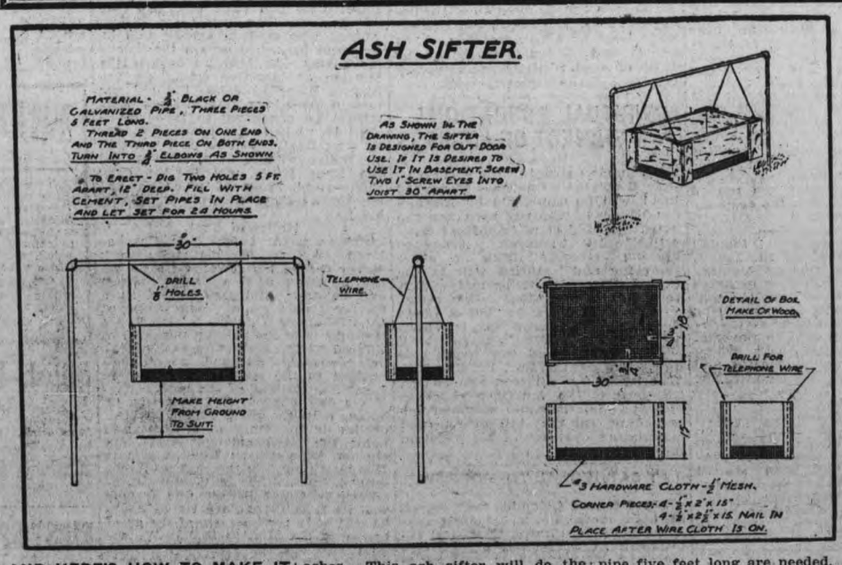

"Well, you will have to offer at least $700 if you wish to see your wallet again."

USEFUL ARTICLES — HOUSEHOLD MECHANICS

AND HERE'S HOW TO MAKE IT

Ashes are used in the Winter time to spread over the slippery, icy walks. But usually, one has great difficulty separating the large cinders from the ashes. This ash sifter will do the work neatly and in very short order.

I received the directions for making this sifter from Mr. M. J. De Vrent, of Detroit.

Three pieces of three-quarter inch pipe five feet long are needed. Two of these pieces must be threaded on one end, and the third piece on both ends. These pipes are then to be turned into three-quarter inch elbows as shown in our diagram.

Handy men around the house will find many valuable suggestions in Tool-Craft. Take this ash-sifter, for example.

Mr. Solar does not limit himself to the making of toys; he also tells how to make articles that are of practical use in the average home.

THE EDITOR.

Before erecting the pipe frame, drill two one-eighth inch holes thirty inches apart, through the top cross-pipe.

To erect the frame, dig two holes twelve inches deep and five feet apart. Place the two uprights in these holes, fill the holes with cement, and let the whole thing stand for twenty-four hours.

While the cement is hardening, the sifting box may be made. Use three quarter inch stock for the box. The bottom is to be covered with hardware cloth, extending up on the sides about three inches. The corner strips are to be nailed in place after the cloth is on.

In the ends of the box drill holes to receive the telephone wire that supports the box from the cross-pipe. Adjust the wire supports so that the box hangs at the desired height.

I have taken it for granted that you will want to place the ash sifter out-of-doors. If you prefer to have it in the basement, however, it will not be necessary to make the iron-pipe frame. Simply fasten screw eyes in a joist, placing them the proper distance apart, and run the wire through them.

Look To Your Garden

THERE is nothing like an early start, when work is to be done, and this applies equally to gardening. Those of our little readers who contemplate attending to their gardens this year should be getting the soil ready now. The frost is out of the ground in most places, and the recent rains have softened the soil so that the work will not be too heavy. It is a good plan to consult a catalogue and see what types of plants and flowers will blossom in rotation so that your garden will present a mass of bloom at all times. Very little pains taken in this case will produce results you will be proud of, and the little extra trouble is well worth while.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT PEOPLE

Sidelights on Men and Women in the Public Eye

POINCARE LIKES HIS COLLIE DOG

New French Premier a Journalist With Wide Human Interests.

PREMIER of France, President of France, contributor to newspapers.

This is the succession of occupations for Raymond Poincare in the last ten years. He succeeds Briand now as premier of the republic in one of its numerous political crises.

Poincare's excursion into active journalism, which filled in the interval between his presidency and his latest premiership is not nearly as uncommon in France as it would be in Canada. Our public men don't use the press as a regular forum to anything like the extent prevalent in Europe, in Britain or in the United States.

Premier Poincare

Mackenzie King has written a couple of books, but you don't see many articles by him appearing in newspapers or magazines. Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, both in and out of office, were equally reticent.

Poincare has been contributing poltical articles to the leading French magazine, the Revue des Deux Mondes, and to important dailies like the Temps. Other French public men, including Barthou, the new vice-premier, have been doing the same thing.

In Great Britain, Winston Churchill and Lord Birkenhead are only two of several ministers who write articles for the papers.

In the United States Bryan, Hughes, Taft and Hays are among the newspaper and magazine contributors. Harding, of course, is a newspaperman by profession.

Madame Poincare

Poincare has this typical characteristic of the good newspaperman—he is intensely interested in life and its activities. He's a better politician because he is interested in more than politics.

Poincare has been described as essentially a man of the world, who goes everywhere and sees everything. He goes to the leading first-night performances at the theatre, he is fond of racing and of animals. His companions when he is at work or study, are usually some handsome collie dog and a pure bred Persian cat.

Poincare even in private life entertains a great deal in his fine house near the Bois de Boulogne. His books and his family and his works of art find a prominent place in his affection.

Madame Poincare has been an invaluable domestic and social asset to her husband. But she has never succeeded in getting him to keep his hair cut or brushed as well as she would like. Even as President of France his appearance was a little shaggy.

GENERAL GRIESBACH AND MUSICAL PIGS

An Incident of Edmonton in Its Formative Period.

THIS is a story of the younger days of General "Billy" Griesbach, of Edmonton, member of the last Federal Parliament.

Gen. Griesbach

As long ago as 1903 he was actively interested in politics and was addressing an Edmonton campaign audience. He was urging encouragement for industries to locate in that district. He stressed especially the favorable opening for a meat packing business.

He told how the industry was conducted in Chicago and how every part of a hog was utilized.

An old Scotsman called from the audience: "What do they do with the squeal, Billy?"

"They make bagpipes out of it, Mr. McPherson!"

BAGPIPES CURE ONE KILL THE OTHERS

CAPT. C. D. McDONALD, chaplain of one of the Western Canadian regiments overseas, is credited with the following story:

"A sergeant of our battalion, a big, bluff Highlander, had been badly gassed, but had recovered sufficiently to be sent to a convalescent hospital. This hospital was in one of a number of small buildings, each caring for about twelve patients. While here the sergeant suffered a relapse, and one night was told by the M. O. that his hours were numbered. As a last request he asked that he might be allowed to hear his beloved bagpipes once again. His request was granted, and a "windy" Highlander was instructed to march up and down the corridor, outside his room, blowing the pipes.

"On making his rounds in the morning, the man asked the head-sister how Sandy was after getting his dose of happiness. 'Oh,' she replied, 'he seems quite bright and cheerful this morning, and I am certain he will pull through all right; but doctor—the other patients are all dead.'"

MACKENZIE KING AND HIS "HERE! HERE!"

Town Constable and New Prime Minister in Agreement.

DURING the recent election campaign, Mackenzie King spoke in a small town of Western Ontario. The meeting was held in the town hall. When the Liberal leader was in the middle of his speech, a number of late arrivals made quite a disturbance as they climbed the stairs on their way to the meeting place.

Mackenzie King

Suddenly the voice of the constable was plainly heard crying out in admonishing tones: "Here! Here!"

Whether Mr. King misunderstood the source and reason of the exclamation, or whether he merely made a joke of the situation, he did make a hit by interrupting his speech with the remark: "I'm glad my friend agrees."

DID PLUNKETT BOX WITH ROOSEVELT?

Irish Agricultural Leader Fond of Arizona Cattle Ranching.

FEW overseas leaders visit America as frequently as Rt. Hon. Sir Horace Curzon Plunkett, the Irish agricultural and political authority. He is over on this side of the water at present on one of his numerous expeditions, which are usually personal in their character.

Sir Horace got the American habit early. As the third son of the 16th Baron Dunsany and a daughter of the Baron Sherborne he went to Eton and Oxford, but when he graduated at the age of twenty-five he went out to Wyoming and engaged in cattle ranching there for ten years. He still owns ranches in that state and never goes back to Dublin without visiting them.

Rt. Hon. Sir Horace Plunkett

Sir Horace was an old and close friend of Theodore Roosevelt, their intimacy dating back to the days when both were ranching out west. Plunkett had many tastes in common with Roosevelt, among them cross-country riding, big game shooting and boxing. At one time he held the boxing championship of the British House of Commons, but it is hard to say just what degree of skill that represents without knowing his competitors. If we knew that he had defeated Theodore Roosevelt in a good hard bout that would be a noteworthy recommendation for his pugilistic abilities.

WEATHERMAN AND HIS WHETHER OR NO

A Story of Interest Both in England and Here.

SIR FREDERICK STUPART, of the Dominion meteorological service, didn't tell this story, but he will probably appreciate it, too. It has to do specifically with a professional colleague of his, Dr. George Clarke Simpson, director of the meteorological office in London, England.

Dr. Simpson, like Sir Frederick, is generally referred to as "the weather man." At a recent dinner party a none too bright youth, hearing Dr. Simpson thus referred to, enquired the reason.

"Why, don't you know?" replied a society woman near him. "He is called the weather man because he gets his salary whether he guesses right or not."

HOW DALY LEARNED HIS NUMBER WORK

President of Home Bank Was Kept in After Four.

THIS is the period of annual bank reports. Bank presidents are talking about their millions and hundreds of millions—the higher and practical mathematics.

When Herbert J. Daly, president of the Home Bank, went to school the study of mathematics, strangely enough, was his bugaboo. It was the most complete annoyance he ever suffered.

Herbert J. Daly

School hours were too short for him to learn mathematics in, but the mathematics master at Orillia High School remedied this deficiency by keeping young Daly in after four.

That master figuratively and almost literally, too, hammered mathematics into Daly's head. To-day the president of the Home Bank looks back upon those after-school sessions as among the most valuable minutes of his life.

Grand Old Man of Ontario Municipal Politics This Reeve of Thurlow for Forty-Three Years

Nathaniel Vermilyea at 75 Is Still Chief Magistrate of Township Near Belleville With Nearly Half a Century of Service—Friend of Sam Hughes and Mackenzie Bowell—Missed Being Cabinet Minister and Senator.

By Fred G. Griffin.

Belleville, Ont.

IF Reeve Nathaniel Vermilyea liked he might paraphrase Louis the Fourteenth of France and exclaim: "Thurlow Township, it is I." Perhaps the old man does, sometimes, in his heart of hearts. For compared to his record of ruling, that of Thomas Church, once mayor of Toronto for seven long years, was that of a tyro.

"It is 32 years now since I was warden of Hastings county," he remarked to Mr. Mallory, the county treasurer, the other day.

"Wardens have come from Thurlow since then," replied the other.

"But I'm not Thurlow," protested Mr. Vermilyea.

"You're not!" exclaimed the old treasurer, with just the right note of disbelief in his laugh. So might a clever courtier have conveyed his appreciation of wisdom and power to his king.

"I have been here so long," said Mr. Vermilyea, later, speaking a little wistfully, it seemed, as if he wanted one to understand, "that everything here is the product of my hands, so to speak." Two large cement works came to Thurlow during his regime, and a new large quarries company; a jailer's residence was built, wings were added to the registry office—achievements only differing in degree from the developing of an Ashbridge's Bay or the building of a transcontinental railroad.

His forty-seventh year a member of Thurlow township council! His forty-third year as reeve, thirty-nine of them by acclamation! And Thurlow proudly calling itself the banner township of Hastings county!

Some five years ago a certain faction were anxious to oust Mr. Vermilyea from his throne. They came against him with horse, foot and artillery, ballista and battering ram. H. K. Denyes, since elected as member of the legislature, was chosen as standard bearer. But, when the smoke of battle cleared away, Mr. Vermilyea was still firmly sitting. And the acclamations have been accumulating ever since.

Mr. Vermilyea's tenure of office is the more remarkable when it is remembered that he is a Liberal in a county that is strongly Conservative. Even in the recent general election Hastings county elected two Conservative members. Thurlow township itself, adjoining Belleville, contains some of the city's overflow. It has four considerable villages within its boundaries—Corbyville, whence good whiskey came in pre-prohibition days; Cannifton, Point Anne and Foxboro.

Twice, as a Liberal, he ran for the Ontario legislature, but he was twice beaten, the second time by only nine votes, but it might as well have been 900, declares Mr. Vermilyea himself. It looks as if the fates had conspired to keep him out of the higher political life. If he had been elected he would undoubtedly have been an Ontario cabinet minister, a man who knows him well affirms, for he was of finer calibre than many a man chosen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised him a senatorship, but the defeat of 1911 came before he could redeem his pledge.

Once he met the late Sir Mackenzie Bowell on the streets of Belleville. After a little preliminary talk the latter exclaimed: "Than (for they call him Than Vermilyea 'round Thurlow), you should never have been a Grit. If you had been a Tory you could have been elected years ago."

"Sir Mackenzie," countered Mr. Vermilyea, "have you ever heard of Moses?"

"What had he to do with it?" asked the veteran parliamentarian.

"Moses could have become the son of Pharoah's daughter and sat on high, but he chose instead to suffer affliction with the people of God," replied the nimble-witted Than.

But Liberal as he was, Mr. Vermilyea was always broader than party when it came down to the affairs of Thurlow township. "As a politician I was a failure," declares this reeve par excellence; and, a breath or two later, "There is no bigotry here. I try to get honey from every flower." Which may explain partly his success as a tribune of Thurlow.

Taught With Sam Hughes.

As an example of fair-mindedness, witness the following: Thurlow's council for years was made up solidly of "Reformers." Some three years ago it dawned on Mr. Vermilyea that this was not as it should be. So at the nominations he appealed for the acclamation of two Conservatives. Thereupon arose a murmuring among the faithful. But he quoted to them: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do ye even so to them." As a result Robert J. Garbutt and William Tufts, Conservatives, became members of the township council. And they are even so unto this day.

"Oh, I'm still a Liberal at heart," explains Mr. Vermilyea from his vantage ground of 75 years of age, "but in the last two elections I voted for the U.F.O. You see, I've reached a time when I'm going to vote for the best man, no matter where he comes from or what his politics—be he Grit or Tory, or U.F.O. And I believe that feeling is becoming more generally accepted than it was formerly."

There is fine old stock in this reeve of Thurlow. His great-grandfather was a Hollander who married a Scotswoman, moved into France and was later driven out because of his religious principles. He crossed the seas and settled among his Dutch fellow countrymen on Manhattan Island. Harlem bridge now abuts on what was great-father Vermilyea's farm. In the course of time the family moved to Green county, N.Y., and eventually, as United Empire loyalists, to Hastings county. Mr. Vermilyea's grandfather on his mother's side was an English soldier.

Mr. Vermilyea, with his fine, thin features, his hooked nose, his trim white vandyke which does not conceal his aggressive jaw, and his long, pointed mustache, might have sat for an old engraving of some Stuyvesant or Verhunlst of old New Amsterdam. His face has an air of being the portrait of somebody's ancestor. It is only when he rises that one notices the stoop that is more than age, that must have come from close acquaintance with Ontario's soil.

At 17 years his father died, leaving him penniless, with a farm of 25 acres. The character of the man rose triumphant over his handicaps from the beginning. His greatest pride is the fact that from study in a little country school-house he obtained a teacher's certificate of the first class.

Eventually he became headmaster of Belleville Model School, where he helped to turn out other teachers. During this period his farm holdings increased to 120 acres. He lived on his farm five miles outside Belleville, and during eleven years' teaching he walked in and out from school, and in all that time never missed a day.

Forty-four years ago the late Sir Sam Hughes was his associate teacher in Belleville. "A fine fellow, great-hearted and generous," is how the living man recalls the dead.

Later Mr. Vermilyea retired from teaching and devoted his energies to his spreading farms. At one time he owned altogether fourteen, a total of 600 acres, probably the finest in the county, with a home fit for the lordship of so much land.

The quality of Mr. Vermilyea as a farmer may be judged from the fact that some twelve years ago he felt that the standard of the horses he was using ought to be improved. So he sent two of his sons to France, where they bought and brought back eight thoroughbred Percherons. Hastings county has an improved strain of horses throughout as a result. Mr. Vermilyea's hackneys also lifted three silver cups last year at the Cobourg show and five the previous year.

Under his sway, Thurlow township does not owe a cent, and the tax rate, not including the school rate, is only 1 6-10 mills—perhaps as low as any in Ontario. This was a source of powerful satisfaction to his constituents.

He sums up his own municipal success in two words: General efficiency. That, and square dealing. "I don't care who you are," he adds, "you'll get equal treatment at the council board. Your religion, your politics or your nationality won't effect the judgment a particle."

TWO WRITERS WHOSE AMBITION WAS ART

Booth Tarkington and Joseph C. Lincoln Wished to Paint.

BOOTH TARKINGTON'S one ambition was to be a great artist, and Joseph C. Lincoln practically considered that he was an artist, according to Torrey Ford in the New York Herald.

When Mr. Lincoln migrated to New York from Cape Cod some twenty-odd years ago he carried under his arm a portfolio of pen and ink sketches and crayon drawings. He "peddled" them about among the magazines and created what he was forced to admit was something less than a stir with the art editors. Just to dress up his drawings and make them look more salable he penned some little jingles to go with them. The idea was that he would sell the picture for so much and throw in the poetry for nothing.

Booth Tarkington

It was some time before Mr. Lincoln realized that the jingles weer selling the pictures. As a matter of fact, it was his wife who suggested that perhaps the jingles would sell without the pictures and save him a lot of time and bother. Only after a long mental struggle did the artist give up his career and become a writer.

To-day Joseph C. Lincoln is the author of about as many Cape Cod novels as there are years on the calendar of his writing career. He hasn't drawn anything but royalty checks for the last twenty years.

NOT IN SAME CLASS AS FATHER O'BRIEN

Rev. J. A. Wilson Hears About His Personal Appearance.

REV. J. A. WILSON, who is the pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, one of the largest churches of the Ambitious City, tells the following anecdote, the scene of which took place in Peterborough, Ont., where Mr. Wilson was assistant pastor some years ago in St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Wilson was in a drug store one day, talking to the proprietor, Mr. Macdonald. He stepped to one side to permit a customer to be waited on. Just then a second customer entered, a Mrs. Hope—an elderly lady—who was a devout member of the church where Mr. Wilson was assistant pastor. Being rather short-sighted, she didn't notice Mr. Wilson's presence, so he stepped up to her, and said in a jovial way: "Didn't you know me, Mrs. Hope? Did you think I was Father O'Brien?" The first customer, evidently a member of Father O'Brien's parish, and a great admirer of that much-loved priest, seemed to resent the light manner in which, as she thought, her spiritual confessor had been spoken of, and when Mr. Wilson left the store shortly afterwards, she said to the proprietor: "Indeed,' I would never take him for Father O'Brien. Father O'Brien is a handsome man, and Father O'Brien is an intelligent-looking man."

Rev. Mr. Wilson

DARLING BLAMES KIDNEYS AND BACON

English Judge Reviews a Strangely Assorted Restaurant Meal.

ACQUITTED—omelette, rum, Benedictine, and Chartreuse.

Convicted—kidneys and bacon.

This is the gist of a judgment handed down this month by Mr. Justice Darling, one of the best known and the wittiest judges in London.

A retired detective and his wife had dinner at one of the most popular restaurants in London. They ordered fried kidneys, bacon, straw potatoes, and a rum omelette. After the woman had eaten her share she complained of feeling a little faint, and the husband ordered liquors — one chartreuse and one brandy. As his wife would not touch hers, the husband drank them both.

Mr. Justice Darling

The wife didn't feel well, was taken home, and a doctor said she was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Later the husband, too, became ill. The couple sued the restaurant for damages.

A pathologist from the Home Office said he considered eating a rum omelette following kidneys and bacon was an injudicious thing.

Mr. Justice Darling awarded the woman £80 damages and her husband £30. He said the blame rested somewhere between the kidneys and the bacon.

A FLEMISH TEACHER MAKES BIG NAME

Camerlynck as Interpreter Sets New Standard in Washington.

EVERYONE who has come in touch with the man and his work is enthusiastic over Gustave Henri Camerlynck.

And who, please, is he?

G. H. Camerlynck

He's a Flemish school teacher of whom it has been said that he has a more intimate knowledge of diplomatic doings since the war than anyone else at the Washington conference.

This is true at least in a technical sense, for he has participated in every diplomatic gathering from the Paris conference to the Washington gathering—as interpreter between French and English. His duty is to translate either from English to French or vice versa every word spoken in these two languages. He jots down each word, using a simplified phonetic system of his own invention.

Camerlynck is not only accurate, but he has the gift of reproducing a speaker's gestures and the tone of a voice, thus contributing to a closer understanding of the meaning.

What especially distinguishes Camerlynck from most other interpreters is that he is equally felicitous and thorough in his use of both languages. A French interpreter usually is much more effective in speaking his own language, that is in translating English into French, than in turning French into English.

Camerlynck is achieving an international reputation because he can do equally well in translating French into English. Think about this a minute and see if it isn't a real achievement.

OF MORE INTEREST THAN MERE HUSBANDS

What Poor Woman Thought a Novelist Visitor Meant.

ARNOLD BENNETT tells a story about a brother novelist (or it may be himself) and his search for local color.

When looking for country types one day, this writer succeeded in getting into conversation with three women, two of them garrulous and one quiet, in the bar parlor of an old village inn.

Arnold Bennett

The talk turned to the subject of husbands. Very proudly one declared, "Mine's a farm laborer, mine is," whereat the second snorted contemptuously, as she announced that her husband was "summit better." It turned out that he was a plowman.

The third woman sat silent in the corner by the fire, apparently half asleep, and uttered never a word.

The author turned to her and said: "And you, mother, what's yours?"

Suddenly straightening herself up, she replied, "Oh, mine's a drop of gin, and thank ye very much, sir."

No Sale.

I WANT," said the very plain girl, "a book entitled 'Cultivate Your Natural Beauty.'"

"Here it is," said the clerk, who wanted to be sociable. "Are you getting it for a friend?"

And the very plain girl put her purse back into her bag and went right out.

FARMERS ANXIOUS TO SEE LIVE POET

Bucolic Episode in Which Arthur Stringer Figures.

ARTHUR STRINGER, the well-known poet and novelist, spends the Summers at his country place, "Shadelawn," on Lake Erie, south of Chatham. He delights in doing domestic chores, such as repairing roofs and performing other manual toil.

One hot morning Stringer was high up on his roof with nails and shingles, working zealously. He heard the slow rumble of a hay-rick coming down the long private lane that separates the Stringer property from the main road.

Arthur Stringer

The driver of the hay-rick, a farmer, with a huge cow-breakfast hat, gazed intently at the roof on which Stringer was working. The latter thought his visitor must have come on business, clambered down, and enquired what he could do.

The farmer slowly withdrew a pipe from his mouth, gazed wonderingly at Stringer, and asked slowly, "Be you the poet?"

Stringer admitted it. The farmer shook his head, slowly turned his team, and without further conversation drove away. Stringer climbed again to the roof.

BLIND SOLDIERS MAKE WOODROW WILSON CRY

A Touching Incident in French Red Cross Hospital.

A LITTLE incident illustrating the warmth of heart of Woodrow Wilson is related in the book written by his secretary, Joseph Tumulty. Mr. Tumulty quotes as follows from a letter received by him in 1920 from a nurse stationed at the Red Cross Base Hospital at Neuilly, France.

"It might interest you to recite an incident within my own personal knowledge that proves the depths of his sympathy — his sincerity. I was one of the unit of Red Cross workers who went to France to help our soldiers blinded in battle. I was at the time of this incident stationed at the Red Cross Base Hospital 1 at Neuilly. After a visit of the President and Mrs. Wilson to the hospital one of my charges, a totally blind private to whom Mr. Wilson had spoken, said to me: 'Miss Farrell, I guess the President must be very tired.' I said: 'Why do you think that, Walter?' Well, because,' replied the soldier, 'he laughed and joked with all the other fellows, but was so quiet when he talked with me, and just said: "Honorable wound, my boy," so low I could hardly hear him. But, say,' continued Walter, 'look at my hand, please, and see if it is all there, will you? The President sure has some hand, and he used it when he shook hands, I'll say.'

Woodrow Wilson

"The fact was Walter was the first blind soldier the President had met in France, and knowing from experience the appeal the blind make to our emotions, I knew the President was so touched that he was overcome and couldn't joke further—he was scarcely able to manage the one remark, and could not trust himself to venture another. 'Twas with tears in his eyes and a choking voice that he managed the one. Both he and Mrs. Wilson wept in that blind ward."

"I'LL BE AN OPERA SINGER" SAID BRIAND AS A LAD

PREMIER BRIAND of France made his first studies in the book of human nature at his father's inn, a small hostelry in a small town, frequented by small tradesmen, small farmers, and the small type generally out of which French life is formed. The elder Briand would note that the lawyers advised the little Aristide to be a lawyer, the actors urged him to become an actor, and the artists urged him to become an artist. In those days the little Aristide amused the guests with his caricatures of themselves, done sometimes with top speed through a charcoal medium. To this very day Aristide amuses people with his pencil drawings of their features; but, instead of the local magistrate, it is Loucheur whom he caricatures, instead of an innkeeper he does a Lloyd George. "I declare, Aristide," said his father long, long ago, "I don't know whatever will become of you!" "I do, papa," retorted Aristide, as quoted in the Action, "I will go to Paris and become an opera singer!" His wonderful voice in those days, we read, made the prediction seem plausible. Then there was his genius for mimicry, the faculty with which he most exhilarated his father's guests, as he strutted like the commander of the local garrison or fell into the fire at the risk of his life in imitation of the deportment of a celebrated toper who happened to be deputy for the town in the chamber. These gifts, surviving in the parliamentary leader, enable him to retain his title against all aspirants as the greatest master of debate in the world.

Cutting the Wheat, for Example

A PARTY was surveying on a farm in the far west of Canada when an old man came hurrying out of his house, and asked:

"What are you doin' here?"

"Surveying," was the reply of one of the engineers.

"Surveyin' for what?"

"For a railroad."

"Where's it goin'?"

"Right through your barn, I guess," laughed the engineer.

"Well, now, mister, I reckon I've got somethin' to say to that. I want you to understand that I've got somethin' else to do besides runnin' out to open and shut them barn doors every time a train wants to go through."—Tit-Bits.

"Advertising is to business as steam is to machinery."
NOT SENTIMENT
BUT A DUTY
Will this convince you why you should buy Canadian made goods?
"Germany's per capita tax to meet the reparations demand by the Allies in 1920 amounted to $6.90. Last year Canada paid per capita $17.35 to pay the exchange on goods imported from United States."
The above is a startling statement, but true, made by Mr. B. A. McKelvie, Manager of the British Columbia Products Campaign. If you live in this country, help it, and yourself, by buying Canadian made goods, giving your own Province the preference.

Every Woman Knows—

That newspaper advertising costs money.

That only the progressive stores use newspaper space.

That the most progressive stores use the most newspaper space.

That these progressive stores use equal care in securing desirable and exclusive goods.

That volume of business means low prices.

That volume of business and volume of advertising are inseparable.

Knowing that Everywoman knows this, the wise merchant who has a new and attractive dress fabric, piece of furniture, a pair of shoes, of laundry soap, will enlist their immediate attention through the advertising columns of The Times.

CLEAVAGE COMES IN RANKS OF ASSOCIATION

Feeling in Saanich Leads to Insurgent Body Being Planned

Ward Seven Electors Invited to Tillicum School to Launch New Association

A rift in the Saanich Ratepayers' Association, the central organization of which has been very powerful in Saanich elections for eight years, is now foreshadowed. Ex-Councillor Dooley, who would now be in office, but for the upsetting of the board elected two weeks ago, announces a meeting at Tillicum School on Tuesday at 8 o'clock, with the object of forming a ratepayers' protective association. This body proposes to allow ratepayers to vote, either members of the organization in good standing, or non-members.

Those who have followed the progress of events in the ratepayers' association meetings recently, and particularly in Ward Seven, will not be surprised that a split has come to pass. Mr. Dooley himself has publicly refused the endorsation of the Ward Association as now constituted for his candidature.

In a statement to The Times yesterday Mr. Dooley, who received a substantial majority at the poll on January 14, said: "A number of ratepayers have agreed to call a meeting so that an association may be formed where all ratepayers may vote on any resolution pertaining to their property rights with or without any cash payment whatever.

"I have cereived the promise of the backing of many leading ratepayers in the ward, and of those who voted for me two weeks ago. I am quite confident of being returned as councillor again for the ward when the electors are asked to vote. The people know what I did in the council, they have performance to guide them, not promises, and I am sure a protective ratepayers' association will be welcomed."

There has not been a split in the association since the election of 1914, when there were two rival bodies throughout the district, one of which was eventually absorbed in the other.

AUTO CLUB WILL HELP METCHOSIN

To Co-operate in Matter of Road Improvements

Motorists and residents of the Colwood district, in order to strengthen their hand in insuring good roads in their district, have decided to join up with the Victoria Automobile Club.

A meeting has been called for Monday night in Colwood Hall at which C. E. Whitney Griffiths will preside. The meeting is for the purpose of discussing road problems.

The drives through Colwood and out Metchosin way are among the most beautiful on Vancouver Island. There is the marine drive overlooking the Straits of Juan de Fuca which follows the shore line pretty closely all the way to Jordan Head but there are many other cross roads and links as well, such as the Happy Valley road, which traverses a charming stretch of country. Albert Head, William Head and numerous other points of interest are reached by this road system. Last Summer the Victoria Automobile Club toured to Sooke in connection with a club run and everyone enjoyed the scenery immensely. The roads in this section require a little attention in places and it will be the purpose of the Metchosin people and the Victoria Automobile Club to co-operate in the matter of securing improved conditions.

AUTO CLUB WILL HOLD MEETINGS

Nomination Day Monday; Elections Next Month

The Victoria Automobile Club will hold a general meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in 214-15 Pemberton Building at which every member is urged to attend on account of the fact that nominations for office for the ensuing year will take place.

President Norman A. Yarrow issues a call to all members to attend as the meeting will also discuss an outline of activities for the year. The election of officers for 1922 will be held, according to the constitution, next month and the date will be set at Monday's meeting.

The club has built up a wonderful spirit of co-operation and good fellowship among motorists, who realize that when banded together they can accomplish a great deal in their own interests which would otherwise be impossible of attainment.

The chief thing that the club is concerned in at the moment is that every member attend Monday night's meeting in order that the nominations may prove a true representation of the opinion of the majority of the club members.

President Yarrow and other officers of the club look for a prosperous and useful year. There is much work to be done and a great deal of unselfishness has been exercised by officers and members of the club alike in the past. It is hoped that local motorists will realize their duty and lend their support to the club's work by joining the club. Secretary R. R. Webb, Pemberton Building, will always be pleased to answer questions or do anything to assist the motorist.

The present officers of the club are as follows: President, Norman A. Yarrow; First Vice-President, Alfred Carmichael; Second Vice-President, G. D. Christie; Treasurer, P. B. Scurrah; Secretary, R. R. Webb. Directors: Mark Graham, L. D. McLean, E. W. McMullen, Captain C. I. Harris, and J. F. Scott.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous system and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and to-day I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family."

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

NEW BUSINESS TO OPEN MONDAY

Fourth Firm of Undertakers to Operate

McCall Bros., funeral directors and embalmers, some time ago purchased the old Todd property on the corner of Vancouver Street and Johnson Street. For some time past the building has been undergoing extensive alterations, and will, on Monday be opened as Funeral Parlors. The interior of the building has been practically rebuilt, while the exterior, including the grounds, are also receiving their fair share of attention and will, when the plans as laid out are fully completed, be one of the most suitable for the service in Western Canada.

McCall Bros. have had wide experience in this particular calling, both in Calgary and other cities easterly from Calgary, and thoroughly understand the business in all its details. They state they will be in a position to give the public the benefit of their expert experience. By Monday a handsome new hearse, being built in Victoria, will be ready for use. While the service afforded the public will be the best, the charges will be the most moderate, it is stated.

The new hearse is a work of art, and does great credit to its builders, John McKay, 723 Cormorant Street, and his associate, Fred Brooks, who carried out the cabinet work.

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough is Childs Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It

If you want to take care of that bad, hang on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parmint (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus follows.

For Catarrhal conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Parmint (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

APPEAL ON GROUND OF INVALIDITY IS SUCCESSFUL

Defendant Secured Judgment in Liquor Appeal From Sealing Regulations

Due to an oversight in the Act, it was learned yesterday in a judgment of His Honor Judge Lampman, that for several months after the Government Liquor Act came into effect, that there was no such thing as a Government seal for private stocks—until this error had been remedied by regulation.

Ever since the Act has been in force this point has been raised by counsel in all cases of convictions for being in possession of unsealed liquor. The contention reached a decision yesterday when two appeals from police court convictions on this point came before His Honor Judge Lampman in County Court.

D. S. Tait, appearing for Chu Wah and Shu, who had been fined $50, and their liquor confiscated, held that the Government Liquor Act had not prescribed a seal, as set by its own terms; and that the regulation by the Liquor Control Board fixing this had never been passed by Order-in-Council.

R. C. Lowe, in a similar appeal, on behalf of George Brook and George McIntosh, who had been fined $100, with confiscation, supported Mr. Tait in his contentions, having previously taken that stand before in the police court.

C. L. Harrison, for the Crown in both appeals, moved to introduce the minutes of the board, showing that regulations had been adopted to govern the issue.

The appellants objected to the introduction of such evidence, the objection being upheld by the court.

His Honor Judge Lampman allowed the appeal in the case of Rex vs. Chu Wah and Shu, and reserved judgment in that of Rex vs. George Brook and George McIntosh. A. M. Johnson, K. C., chairman of the Liquor Control Board, was present at the hearing.

On a motion by Mr. Tait, two cases of the Chinese seizure, which had been opened, were ordered to be returned, while the bulk of that seizure will be held in custody, the Crown giving notice of appeal.

In the case of Chu Wah and Shu, seven cases of liquor were seized, which had been stored in a room for a long time, the owner of the house and the occupant of that room being prosecuted. The other case concerned a seizure made by the police of a motor car load of assorted liquor, which the defendants stated was for shipment by schooner to Mexico.

URGES PARENTS TO PREVENT DISEASE

Dr. Young Warns of Moral and Mental Delinquency

"We spend millions in British Columbia on education but when we come to examine our children and find that one-third of them are suffering from various defects, I ask you whether it is good business to pay this money to bring up one-third of the population which will become defective so that they, through their physical labor, will never be able to repay the amount their education has cost?" This query from Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, speaking at the Esquimalt Child Hygiene Council last night, summed up the speaker's contention that prevention of disease and physical defects in children was better than cure.

"It is a well-known fact that prevention is far better than cure," Dr. Young went on. "To-day the country is faced with its people afflicted by physical defects, and I want to tell you that as soon as you have physical degeneration you will also have moral and mental delinquency. I urge you to adopt measures and means to prevent these diseases from being inherited by the children of the coming generation. If you don't take some action in this respect it is criminal neglect on your part."

Pointing out that one-third of those had sought admission to the army had been rejected because of their physical unfitness, Dr. Young declared that young men and women to-day are getting too little sleep, and irregular in their health habits, and are draining their vitality by excessive living.

Work to conserve the nation's health should begin with the care of the body, Dr. Young said. He urged that children of pre-school age should be carefully supervised and suggested that prospective mothers should obtain health advice from the Provincial Health Department.

Rev. H. T. Archbold, organizing secretary of the Island Council of Social Hygiene, quoted statistics to show that twenty-five per cent of the population of Canada was suffering with venereal disease. He said that venereal disease should be dragged out into the open where it could be fought with the sunlight of education.

COURT UPHOLDS DECISION OF LOWER TRIBUNAL

Appellant Unsuccessful in Appeal of Yorkshire Trust vs. Newcomb

By a unanimous decision of their Lordships, the appeal of the Yorkshire and Canadian Trust Company versus Newcomb (appellant) was dismissed yesterday, at the termination of the hearing in the afternoon session of the Court of Appeal. The appeal was from a judgment for plaintiff by Mr. Justice Clement in the lower court, where the plaintiffs obtained leave to set aside two assignments declared to be fraudulently made by Mrs. Newcomb to her husband. It was alleged that the assignments of mortgages and shares in a loan company were made to evade the claims of creditors. The value of assignments were variously placed at between $30,000 and $50,000. Mr. Justice Clement had held that there was clear intent to defeat the just claim of the plaintiffs. W. J. Taylor, K. C., with J. R. Green, for the appellant, held that the property had originally been that of the husband, but had been made over to the wife in trust for investment. Counsel further argued that the plaintiffs had omitted certain technicalities in commencing suit, and should not have been permitted to go to trial in the lower court in the original action.

A. E. Bull appeared for the plaintiff-respondent, and held that the decision of the lower court had been a just one. The appeal was dismissed by a unanimous decision of the court.

NOTICED IT.
